GERMANY AND ALLIES BATTLE TO BLOODY DRAW

Fifth Day of the Third Big Struggle of War Sees No Advantage Gained

ALLIES CANNOT PIERCE LINES

Germans Fail in Attempts to Resume Offensive Against the Enemy

LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES TERRIFIC

Hills and Forests of Battle District Full of Wounded Suffering in Cold Down-pour

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The enormous armies of Germany and the allies are seemingly battling to a bloody draw along the line from the Oise to the Meuse.

For five days the French and British have vainly tried to break through the strong German fortified lines. For the same length of time the Germans have vainly striven to resume the offensive. Thousands of men have been killed. The wooded heights and the hills of the Champagne region are filled with the wounded of both forces, their terrible sufferings increased by the cold rains that are sweeping the battle-field.

Neither Has Advantage

But so far as can be learned today, neither side has scored a material advantage.

The third battle of the war, and its bloodiest, is still in the balance, with both sides constantly reinforcing their lines in the struggle for mastery.

No statements of casualties are obtainable, but train after train filled with wounded pass around the city and hurry south to the hospital base. Many officers of high rank have been killed or wounded. The majority of the wounded passing through here are suffering from shell wounds, indicating that the battle is in the nature of an artillery duel. The fact that the French are still on the offensive naturally adds to the casualties. But there is no feeling of discouragement here. The French are fighting in their own territory, close to their natural bases, while the Germans are compelled to bring up their supplies, especially their ammunition, from far in their rear.

Try to Retake Rheims

The fighting on the center, where the Germans have tried vainly to retake Rheims, has been most desperate. Last night the Germans essayed a night attack in force, in an effort to break through. They got close to the city, but were finally driven back and defeated with terrible loss.

Through the inky blackness of the night through fields and along roads ankle deep in mud, the Germans moved, only to be almost surrounded in the end and cut to pieces by the French three-inch guns and rapid-firers, mounted in anticipation of just such an attempt.

The fighting on the French left has also been very bitter. The brunt here was borne by the English, who beat back half a dozen attempts on the part of the extreme right of Gen. Von Kluck's army to break through between the English army of Gen. W. P. Pulteney and the French forces who are supporting him. Three times the German infantry tried to overwhelm the combined lines and each time they were driven back with heavy losses. In the last attempt the British delivered a counter attack, breaking through the German lines and following up their advantage with a bayonet charge in which an entire German brigade was decimated.

Occupies Altkirch

The French operations in upper Alsace continues unchecked. The towns of Thann and Altkirch having been occupied. This was officially announced here this afternoon, and the information was made that another attempt to drive the Germans back on Strassburg is in progress.

Nancy is Held

BY WARRINGTON DAWSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BORDEAUX, Sept. 18.—That the great battle still in progress in northern France continues a draw was admitted at military headquarters today. It was said that it might be two or three days yet before there would be any appreciable change.

There was much rejoicing, however, when the war office made public the official reports dealing with the French victory at Nancy where the Germans after a battle lasting eight days, finally abandoned their attempt to force the French position.

Following the regular cabinet meeting it was announced that President Poincare had ordered telegrams of congratulations sent to Generals Durand and Castelnau, in command at Nancy.

ALLIES FAIL TO PIERCE RIGHT

German Center Slowly Advancing Against Fierce Resistance Says Statement

GREAT EFFORT TO CRUSH ALLIES

Kaiser's Troops Have Been Re-inforced All Along the Battle Line

BERLIN, via The Hague, Sept. 18.

In an official statement issued by the German general staff this afternoon it was announced that, while the great battle now raging in France is still undecided, there are evidences of German gains and indications that the French offensive is gradually losing its force. The statement says:

Allies Force Declines

"The battle between the Oise and the Meuse continues at all points and is not yet decisive. There are indications that the enemy's resistance is beginning to decline. The French efforts to penetrate the German right, made with great bravery, have failed. The German center is slowly advancing, although encountering desperate resistance.

"The French sallies from their fortified position at Verdun have been repulsed without much difficulty. The situation in its entirety, from the German viewpoint, is satisfactory."

Earlier in the day a statement had been issued in which it was explained that while the general staff realized the great anxiety of the German people for news of the progress of the battle it had been found necessary to withhold details because of the danger that the enemy would profit thereby. It is known, however, that strong reinforcements have been sent forward to every point along the line in France and that a supreme effort is to be made to break the French defense. It is felt here that if the present battle results in a victory for the Germans, the French will be unable to recover for a long time and will be compelled to retreat far to the south of Paris.

The unofficial reports received here say that the French-British losses in the present battle far exceed those of the Germans, who for the first time in the present campaign, have been able to fight from trenches, strongly supported by artillery. The German artillery fire has been very deadly, especially on the right where an attempt by a seemingly overwhelming force of British and French troops to turn the German right was defeated with heavy loss. The German batteries, cleverly masked, had the range of the attacking force and cut it up badly.

Aircraft Intact

BERLIN, via Sayville, L. I., Wireless to the United Press, Sept. 18.—The war office this morning emphatically denied that any German aircraft have been lost to the enemy. It also stated that the general battle in France continues with all attempt of the French to break through the German lines repulsed. The statement said:

"Reports circulated abroad that German airships have been captured or destroyed by the enemy are false. All of the German aerial craft have come up to expectations. In a series of long and dangerous flights a few were damaged, but all have been repaired."

PEACE OUTLOOK HOPEFUL TODAY THINKS WILSON

President Believes Sounding of Belligerents Will Make Real Progress

Chancellor Says Peace Discussion Is Impossible Until Position of Allies Is Known

TO ASK ALLIES FOR PROPOSALS

President Wilson Is Personally Handling Efforts to Bring About Peace

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Wilson is "extremely hopeful" that real progress towards peace in Europe will result from informal sounding of Germany and the allies.

This was the situation today regarding peace and mediation overtures, according to a high authority. It is still too early to discuss terms, but by careful and slow discussions the president, it is said, has reason to hope that some definite peace overtures may be presented at an early date.

Germany "Noncommittal"

The presidential characterizes the sentiments expressed by German Chancellor von Bethman-Holweg to Ambassador Gerard as "noncommittal." It is understood the chancellor only went so far as to say (whether with or without the Kaiser's knowledge and consent is unknown to officials here) that Germany could not consider or even discuss mediation until the position of the allies was known.

While the greatest of official secrecy surrounds the peace negotiations it was accepted today that the president will shortly make guarded inquiries of the allies, asking them to present tentative proposals which might bring the nations together upon some plane of preliminary discussion.

Wilson Handles Mediation

It was evident today that President Wilson himself is personally handling the mediation and peace overtures to the exclusion of Secretary of State Bryan and other officials.

Not Encouraging

Today, it can be said on the highest authority, the president does not feel that he has received any message from the German capital.

GERMAN OFFICERS TAKE CHARGE OF AUSTRIAN ARMY

Assume Responsibility for Defense of Galicia from the Russians

GERMAN TROOPS BRACE LINE

VIENNA, Sept. 18.—It was officially denied by the foreign office this afternoon that Austria has made any overtures looking toward peace. The announcement states that so far as the war is concerned, Austria will fight to her very last resource to maintain the justice of her cause.

VIENNA, Sept. 18.—Via Rome.

It was officially announced here today that German high officials have joined Grand Duke Francis Frederick, in command of the combined Austrian armies, and are directing a great battle, now in progress west of Lemberg all along the lines of the San river.

The Russian attempt to carry the fortified lines extending from Przemyśl to Jaroslav by storm failed. The Austrian armies have combined and are now heavily reinforcing. They are following outlines of defense determined upon by the German general staff, which has now accepted the responsibility of directing the campaign in Galicia.

The Russians are facing the first real defensive by the Austrians, heretofore the Austrians have been fighting in the open country, where the superiority of the Russian artillery placed them at a material disadvantage.

Not only are the Austrian armies united but they have been reinforced by first line German artillery and it is believed they will now be able to check the Russian invasion. The German reinforcements are constantly arriving.

Advices received from east Prussia show that General Von Hindenberg is making a supreme effort to annihilate the Russian armies of General Kampf. His troops have succeeded in driving a good part of the Russian force into marshy lands from which they have been unable to extricate themselves. It is plain that it is the intention of the Germans to invade Russian Poland.

RUSSIANS EAGER TO BRING ITALY INTO THE FIGHT

All Papers Insist that if She Comes In the War Would End Quickly

PLAN NEW MOVE ON GERMANY

Information of Reported Plans for an Invasion Are Withheld

AUSTRIAN RETREAT CONTINUES

Fall of Przemyśl and Jaroslav Is Said to Be Imminent; Enemy Outnumbered

PETROGRAD, Sept. 18.—All of the Russian newspapers today follow up yesterday's suggestions with emphatic demands that Italy join in the war on the side of the allies. It is pointed out, in plainly inspired articles, that were Italy to immediately join in the conflict, such action would compel Austria to abandon Germany and sue for immediate peace. The result of this would be, papers say, that the German people would realize at once the futility of continuing to fight.

To Move on Germany?

The general situation at the front is described as constantly improving. While information is withheld, it is believed another important movement against Germany is being prepared. The retreat of the Austrians is declared to be almost a complete rout. Gen. Rouszky's troops are attacking them at all points and the fall of Przemyśl is declared imminent.

All of the Austrian fortified positions along the San river have been taken by the Russians with the exception of the limited zone commanded by Jaroslav and Przemyśl. The Russian troops in Galicia now outnumber the Austrians more than three to one.

Cut up Rear Guard

Official reports received today say the fourteenth and the sixth Austrian army corps, which have been badly cut up in yesterday's fighting. Gen. Rouszky's reports received today show that he took 5,000 additional prisoners and fifty-three guns.

The Austrian general, Ziegler, is reported by the Novoe Vremya to have been wounded in the fighting at Krasiesyn. The Russians attacked in force from the south and carried the Austrian positions at the

Mrs. Josephine Losey Behrendt, sister of Attorney Walton Losey and Mrs. Fred Easton of La Crosse, who left here when war was declared, to join her children in Berlin, Germany, was aboard the Holland-American line steamship Ryndam, seized by the British off the coast of Ireland yesterday and taken into the harbor of Cork.

No details have been received in La Crosse except that the Ryndam was captured by a British warship as she was rounding Ireland bound for Rotterdam.

Called by War

Mrs. Behrendt's husband is Dr. Carl Behrendt, prominent physician in Berlin, and she received word from him to come at once, the inference being that his service was required in the German medical corps.

She left La Crosse immediately for New York and on Tuesday, September 8, sailed on the Ryndam. She anticipated no difficulty in getting to Rotterdam and thence to Berlin.

Believe Her Safe

Her relatives and many friends in La Crosse do not question her safety but doubt the possibility of her reaching Berlin from British soil until the war is over.

While visiting here this summer she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Easton.

INCREASE CURRENCY ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The house banking committee today agreed to report a bill amending the currency law to permit national banks to issue against commercial paper circulation emergency equal to the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank. This is designed primarily to aid banks in the cotton belt. Under the existing law this commercial paper may be utilized for circulating purposes only to the extent of thirty per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank.

PASS MRS. WILSON'S BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The "Alley" bill for abolition of slums in Washington, for which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson made such an effective plea while on her death-bed, was finally passed and made ready for the president's signature by the action of the senate today.

One Woman and Four Children Go Down with the Canadian Steamer Montmagny

QUEBEC, Sept. 18.—At least thirteen persons, including one woman and four children, perished today when the Canadian government steamer Montmagny collided with the coalship Lingen, at Beaujeu banks, one mile below Crane island, and sank almost at once.

The Montmagny was carrying Mrs. Richard, wife of the lighthousekeeper at Belle Isle and her seven children, and Mrs. LaValle, wife of the lighthouse keeper at Flower Island, and her four children. Mrs. LaValle and all of her children were drowned. How many of the Richard family were saved is not yet known.

Second Officer LaCasse lost his life endeavoring to save two of the LaValle children.

Wilson Man in Wisconsin Understood to Be in Favor of Him as Independent; Not Confirmed

That Senator Robert M. La Follette is coming into Wisconsin to be an independent candidate for governor this fall is a story rapidly gaining headway and one which those close to the senator do not deny.

La Follette has been urged by the progressives of both parties to come back and has received, from progressive democrats, as well as progressive republicans, pledges of support.

The plan, it is also understood, has the approval of progressives of great national prominence and also the endorsement of men close to President Woodrow Wilson.

BRYAN TO HELP

Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, it is said, is willing to enter Wisconsin for four days in behalf of Senator La Follette, should he decide to enter the gubernatorial race, and it is also said that several of "Bob's" colleagues in the United States senate have offered active assistance.

E. J. Kneen, one of the progressive leaders in the western part of the state, today said that he was positive La Follette would enter the race and also said that he had "seen enough" to know that if he does come back he will get a great share of progressive democratic strength represented by Joseph E. Davies and John A. Aylward.

"BOB" ON WAY BACK

That Senator La Follette is at least giving serious consideration to the plan is evident from information given out by a man high in the progressive democratic councils in Wisconsin. Col. John Hannan, his private secretary, it is said, is already in Madison and the senator will be there tomorrow morning.

In leaving the United States senate to run for the governorship La Follette is performing a political trick typical of the fighting spirit which has characterized his every action since he entered public life.

Senator La Follette and the progressive leaders are confident that the state has not "back tracked," that a majority of the people are progressive and that all that is needed is one big leader to weld the progressive factions of all parties.

There is legal authority for the statement that Senator La Follette would not have to resign from the United States senate to make the campaign.

MANN BLOCKS BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—An old-fashioned filibustering by republican Leader Mann brought an unexpected adjournment of the house shortly after 2 o'clock today. Mann forced four roll calls before the journal of yesterday's proceedings were approved and Representative Underwood, seeing that the transaction of business was impossible moved that the house adjourn.

The Mann filibuster was the outcropping of a wrangle late yesterday when the democrats shut off debate on an amendment to one of the conservation bills.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

LUCY'S CONSCIENCE

By MARSHAL J. PORTER

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"I suppose your conscience prompts you not to fly into the face of your uncle's wishes," sneered Dick Curtis disagreeably.

Lucy grew white at the thrust.

"That—and another reason tell me that I should not marry you, Dick My heart—"

His laugh cut her words short. "Don't confuse your very practical head with your heart, Miss Woodward!"

He bowed low and went away quickly.

Lucy was still standing there, with a stunned look on her pale face, when her mother glided into the room.

"I met Dick in the hall," said Mrs. Woodward in her cool, impersonal tone. "He seemed rather in haste."

"Yes," intoned Lucy, vaguely. "I wanted to ask him about his mother's neuralgia," went on Mrs. Woodward, sinking languidly into a deep chair. "But he made some excuse about leaving for the West in the morning and wanting to catch the limited express. Where is the boy going?"

"I don't know, mother," said Lucy in a frightened tone. "He asked me to marry him and I did—as you wished—I told him I must comply with the terms of Uncle Eben's will or we would be penniless."

"Well, don't make such a fuss over it," complained Mrs. Woodward. "I'm sure almost any other girl would be delighted at the idea of marrying young Eben Vane and having all that money divided between you. Just think of what a gratification it will be to you to know that you've made Eben happy—and that you've made the rest of your mother's days happy and tranquil and entirely free from financial cares."

"I have thought of all that, mother," said Lucy sadly, "but I am unhappy."

"Ungrateful girl," scolded Mrs. Woodward, closing her eyes. "Run along now and put on something pretty—Eben is coming to pay a call on his fiancée. She smiled contentedly, a selfish woman who had always sacrificed others to her own wishes; a woman little loved even by her daughter. Her husband had long since laid down the burden of life, a martyr to her whims.

Lucy went slowly up to her own room, her heart rising in strange rebellion against her handsome mother.

Why, her mother didn't even care whether Lucy loved wild Eben Vane, whose rich father had tried to buy a wife for his wayward son in the person of Lucy Woodward, his niece's lovely daughter.

"Marry Eben and you get half my money; refuse and you get nothing." That was the gist of Mr. Vane's eccentric will.

After a great deal of pressure Lucy had consented to marry Eben, for whom she did not care at all. And then, as if to mock her sorrow, Dick Curtis had asked her to marry him. Now, he, unreasonably bitter toward her, was going away. Her thoughts followed him to the glorious freedom of the great west. She saw his manly form astride a horse covering miles of rolling country; gradually the bitterness would leave his heart and under the gentle influence of nature—and time—and perhaps another girl—maybe an honest-hearted girl who was not afraid of marrying a poor man for love, Lucy broke down and sobbed brokenheartedly.

When Eben Vane, recklessly happy in winning the girl he loved as well as the possession of half of his father's great estate when the old man had threatened to cut him off without a penny, came to call on his fiancée that evening, he found a very pale and woebegone little girl. She shrank away from his embraces, pleaded a headache, and escaped to her room, where refusing admittance even to her angry parent, she never touched her head to the pillow.

When morning broke her door was wide open and her room was empty. Lucy had vanished.

Dick Curtis halted his horse at the creek and staring straight ahead into space forgot the noble panorama of hill and plain. All he saw was a girl's slender form.

"I ought not to have spoken to her that way," he muttered, for he was still thinking of his interview with Lucy although several days had passed since then.

The horse lifted its head and whinnied sharply. From behind came the thud of hoofs on the grassy plain. There was something about that untamed gallop which told Dick that a horse was running away. Surely it could not be that one of those cowboys at the ranch, who rode like centaurs, had met his match at last.

Dick wheeled his horse and started back along the trail. As they topped the rise of ground above the creek he saw the horse and recognized it as an ugly little broncho from the ranch.

The animal was coming straight toward him with foam-flecked mouth and crimson nostrils. On his back swayed the slight form of a girl. In one swift flash he decided it could not be any one from the ranches, for she was correctly attired in a smart black habit and hat, and she was not riding astride.

When he realized this Dick was spurred toward the frenzied pony, finally heading the animal little by little away from the dangerous declivity that led down to the creek.

"Hold tight!" shouted Dick. "I'll

MEN NOT GALLANT?

In the October Woman's Home Companion Mary Heaton Vorse, writing a story entitled "The Distressing Doubt," comments as follows on man's alleged gallantry:

"History does not teach us that natural man finds any shrinking from lifting his hand to the females of his own race. This theory of man's reluctance to hurt those of the weaker sex has only come into its full flowering in the past few years. Man through the ages has hit, pummeled, and kicked woman when she proved recalcitrant, and often when she did not, and boy unchallenged will do the same. All mothers who are not willfully blind or sentimental know this, and when it happens just in play it doesn't really seem worth while to pay attention to it—there are so many things one has to pay attention to."

A man certainly makes allowances for his wife's faults when he pays her alimony.

get you off in a moment."

The girl turned back a white face and he shouted her name incredulously.

"Lucy."

"I'm crazy," he told himself, as he gained the side of the runaway. "Just because the girl looks like Lucy—there—there—I've got you!"

He had pressed close beside the runaway until he could snatch the girl from her perilous position. The riderless horse dashed away, to wander over the ranges until his frenzy subsided.

Dick looked down at the face on his shoulder. "Is it—you—or am I dreaming?" he muttered, dazedly. Lucy Woodward smiled wanly up at him. "It is I," she said weakly. "I came—I came—" Her eyes drooped and a rosy color flooded her cheeks.

"You came—and there is something more?" whispered Dick.

"I came because I needed you; my conscience told me that my own happiness was of some importance, and yours, and my heart—oh, Dick, indeed I have got a heart!" She broke into a storm of sobs.

Holding her close to his breast, Dick rode into the yard of the Twin Bar ranch. A little group of interested cowpunchers came toward him.

"Some idiot," said Dick cheerfully, "gave this lady Black Satan to ride. She's only accustomed to well broken horses, and well, I've got her all right just by chance."

"Not by chance, Dick," whispered Lucy. "It was all planned out ages ago that I was to come to you and that you were to save me. I want to believe it so, for then I shall belong to you always."

Dick kissed her before all the assembled cowpunchers, and it is to their credit that there was only envy in their hearts.

LAUDER'S SONGS HELP SCOTS FIGHT

LONDON, Sept. 18. By mail to New York.—Harry Lauder's songs have been heard on European battlefields. The "Black Watch," the famous regiment of Highlanders, sang them as the German shells burst over their heads and bullets whistled about their ears. A corporal and two privates arriving here wounded told of the fight and singing.

"The Germans were as thick as the Hielan heather," said the corporal. "We stuck there poppin' off the Germans, an' in the thick o' it we were singin' Harry Lauder's latest. It was grand. A' about us were the dead an' deen' an' every noo an' then German shells burst. As we peppered awa' we sang 'Roamin' in the Gloamin' and 'The Lass of Killiecrankie.' Many a sang about the lassies we sang."

SAVE DISCARDED JEWELRY

In the October Woman's Home Companion appears a page of good ideas for the business girl and the home girl. One contributor tells as follows how pin-money can be made out of discarded jewelry:

"One economical friend has earned considerable pin-money by throwing into a 'junk box' all her discarded or broken pieces of gold or silver jewelry, such as worn thimbles with holes, broken silver embroidery scissors, smooth worn silver coins no longer fit for circulation, mashed or stoneless rings, silver salt cellar tops (when the lower part has been broken), earrings, bracelets, brooches, silver or gold comb tops, etc. Her friends also save theirs for her, and it is surprising how fast the collection grows. She sells it to a gold and silver smelting factory, where it is weighed and paid for by the pennyweight."

SENTRY SHOOTS WOMAN DRIVER

LONDON, Sept. 18.—As an instance of the stern seriousness of war, and of the unbending rigor it imposes on people in their every day life, the following brief notice in the London Morning Post is illuminative:

"When motoring last evening past Orlock Point admiralty signalling station, near Denaghadee, county Down, Miss McGeown was challenged three times by the sentry. Receiving no reply, the sentry fired, wounding Miss McGeown in the hand. The lady was removed to Bangor hospital, where an operation was performed. Her condition is very grave."

It sometimes happens that a man has less trouble in getting a daughter off his hands than in keeping a son-in-law on his feet.

A Remedy For All Pain

"The efficiency of any drug" says Dr. C. P. Robbins, "is known to us by the results we obtain from its use. If we are able to control pain and disease by means of any preparation, we certainly are warranted in its use. One of the principal symptoms of all diseases is pain, and this is what the patient most often applies to us for, i. e. something to relieve his pain. If we can arrest this promptly, the patient is most liable to trust in us for the other remedies which will effect a permanent cure. One remedy which I have used largely in my practice is Anti-kamnia Tablets. Many and varied are their uses. I have put them to the test on many occasions, and have never been disappointed. I found them especially valuable for headaches of malarial origin, when quinine was being taken. They appear to prevent the bad after-effects of the quinine. Anti-kamnia Tablets are also excellent for the headaches from improper digestion; also for headaches of a neuralgic origin, and especially for women subject to pains at certain times. Two Anti-kamnia Tablets give prompt relief, and in a short time the patient is able to go about as usual." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all pains. We also make Anti-kamnia Salve; it is a wonderful remedy for skin diseases.

COME TO THE FAIR AT MY EXPENSE--

Have $10.00 worth of Dental work done and I pay your R. R. fare one way; $20.00 worth and I pay both ways. My reduced prices will be in force during Fair Week, so you save money by having your work done at that time. My 18 years in this one location should give you confidence that I am on the square. My guarantee to you is as good as any bank.

DURATION OF THE WAR

Those who think the war is nearly over may be advised by reading the following comment of Georges Clemenceau, noted French writer:

It would be madness to imagine that Germany is down and out. A great part of her military resources remain intact and her automatic discipline will soon reassert itself.

The stakes are too great for the kaiser to abandon the struggle now.
I pay him the honor of believing his resistance will be desperate, but destiny grips his throat.

Coming from a wise enemy of Germany, this concession as to the kaiser's ability to fight long and hard has weight.

EVASION AND COMPROMISE

The republican platform is progressive on its face, and to that extent it is a triumph for the progressive faction. But it is significant for its omissions rather than for its declarations. It covers a compromise responsible for the absence of a fight on the floor. There is no mention of the primary law nor of the reference library (bill factory). The stalwarts were pledged to the modification (emasculatation) of the former and the repeal of the latter.

Neither does the platform mention the initiative and referendum constitutional amendments, which the stalwarts were pledged to defeat.

The progressives were for these measures as strongly as the stalwarts were opposed to them. Had the progressives won a real victory they would have been endorsed, and had the stalwarts controlled they would have been condemned. It looks, as though both sides, fearing to "put it to the touch," had entered into an agreement whereby the real issues were not mentioned in the platform.

Emanuel Philipp made a statement on his own behalf in which he announced that the defeat of the amendments, the repeal of the reference library law and the modification of the primary would constitute an individual platform upon which he would stand, yielding fealty to the convention platform as well. Perhaps this was done to square him with the primary platform, perhaps he really hopes to put the original plans through. On the surface, it looks like the good angels and bad devils at The Hague.

THEIR "EARNESTNESS"

EXPOSED THEM

It takes a "convention" to expose the politicians. The clamor of the conservatives onto the harmony wagon, at the cost of the vital platform planks in their slate, chiefly distinguished the Madison republican meeting. Indeed 'tis true that "Men in earnest have no time to waste
In patching fig leaves for the naked truth."

They were too busy warding off any division calculated to defeat them through the agency of an independent ticket, to hide the truth of their naked desire for office. The situation pointedly recalls the historic utterances of the late "Boss" Keyes:

"I don't care a d— what laws they pass if they will let me administer them."

HOW JOE LOVES

THOSE BOOBS

Had the poet Cowper enjoyed the rare experience of intimate acquaintance with friend Joe Skinner, the following stanza would not have remained undedicated:

"The man that hails you Joe or Jack,
And pines by thumps upon your back
How he esteems your merit,
Is such a friend that one had need
Be very much his friend indeed

WILSON

TRIUMPHS

"Watchful waiting" has triumphed.
President Wilson is vindicated.
The soldiers are leaving Vera Cruz.
The constitutionalists, having peacefully occupied Mexico City, have their chance to make good. Huerta is a fugitive, and all other fugitives are at home, or returning. And for the president a term of derision has become a benediction from the people, while the Mexican jingoists in the United States are clamoring for peace in Europe.

HAT 5 FEET WIDE.

In the fashion department of the October Woman's Home Companion appears a page devoted to the new fall hats for women, some of which are to be flat and wide and others narrow and high. Following is an extract from the commend on the new styles:

"First it was the narrow, very high hat that fashion advocated for fall. Then she took a sudden turn and introduced the very wide hat with low crown. Indeed, it is said that a hat as wide as five feet has been imported from Paris. Such a hat would, of course, be impossible to wear. However, the large hat is back again and will share equal honors with the small one, which keeps as narrow as ever, with the highest trimming imaginable."

LAW BLOW TO CUPID

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 18.—According to a report issued today by the state board of health, the eugenics law has Cupid "lashed to the mast."
There were more than 1,000 fewer marriages in 1913 than in the previous year, the report shows. To avoid the law, which requires men to furnish a certificate of health before a marriage license will be issued, hundreds of young couples go to the neighboring states to have the nuptial knot tied.

The new olive branch of peace bristles with bayonets.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Purtiest One

The purtiest woman that I ever see, I'll tell you the truth, jest between you an' me.
She ain't no dazler, and some fellers might Not stop to look twice, but she's my choice all right.
She's not so blamed strong for the thing they call style.
She don't wear her hair in a half-bushel pile.
The beauty shops never make much off'n her.
She don't have her gowns made in Paris, no sir.
She don't strut around like a peacock and pose.
She don't keep a-daubing white stuff on her nose.

I have heard of the beauties of Spain and of France.
But with me they would not stand a ghost of a chance.
I have gazed upon paintings of world famous queens.
And I've seen a good many made-up actresses.
But the woman who used to bounce me on her knee
She's the purtiest woman that I ever see.

An Added Likeness

An elderly gentleman went into a photographic studio and asked to see the proofs of a picture recently taken of a young man whose name he knew. They were handed to him as a matter of course and he examined them critically. He seemed pleased and said:
"These are of my son. This one is a remarkably good photo of him.
It is very like him, indeed. Has he paid for it yet?"
"No, sir," said the photographer.
"Not yet."
"Ah," said the elderly gentleman.
"Very like him, indeed."

None On the Towels

An English colonel, at kit inspection, said to Private Flannigan:
"Ha! yes, shirts, socks, flannels, all very good. Now, can you assure me that all the articles of your kit have buttons on them?"
"No sir," said Private Flannigan, hesitatingly.
"How's that, sir?"
"Ain't no buttons on the towels, sir."

The Only Safe Place

"Why," asked a Missouri newspaper, "does our state stand at the head in the raising of mules?"
"Because," said an Iowa paper,
"that is the only safe place to stand."

A Plausible Answer

A Kansas man wrote to his newspaper and asked: "What's the matter with my hens. Every morning

Blood Destruction

Stopped and Rebuilt

Worries Overcome, Evidence

Brushed Away. The Skin Cleared.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is man's architect. It contemplates the damage done and repairs the damage. It looks after the possible damage and corrects all tendency to blood eruptions, decay of bones, clogging of joints and any and all of those myriad of destructive effects such as rheumatism, catarrh, swollen glands, sore throat, bronchial affections and the host of infirmities so well known as being caused by impure blood. And now, why should S. S. S. do all this? Simply because it is Nature's antidote, a remedy of searching influence. It contains a powerful, natural ingredient, that sweeps its way to the skin. And in doing this it not only an-nihilates destructive germs but causes them to be so converted that they are easily and harmlessly voided, expelled or destroyed and then driven out through the natural outlets of the body. Thus let S. S. S. be your safeguard in all blood troubles no matter what they are. It won't fail you. Get a bottle today of any druggist but refuse any and all substitutes.

department. Write The Swift Specific Co.,

Doctor Recommended Warner's

"I have great faith in your remedy.
My first husband's mother, Mrs.
Mary C. West, had a bad case of kidney trouble. She was in bed one year. Three doctors attended her, and after a consultation they told her husband she could not live five hours, as one of her kidneys was gone. Then he called an old doctor who had previously attended her. He told her that all he knew to do was to try Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, and if this remedy did not do her any good, nothing would.
So she started to take Warner's and in less than three weeks she was on her feet again and she was thoroughly cured by your remedy."—Mrs.
Georgie Armstrong, Lynn, Mass.

The experience of 35 years has demonstrated the fact that Warner's acts specifically upon the kidney manner that it establishes a healthy condition of these vital or-

To which the editor replied:
"They're dead."

Just as Good as Ever

A general on his return from the war, showed his family a regimental flag, tattered, torn, and riddled with bullets, which he had personally captured from the enemy. On the following morning the trophy was to be presented to the commander in chief. When he called for the flag his industrious wife brought it to him smilingly, and, presenting it to him with a look of proud satisfaction, said:
"James, I sat up all night and mended the flag, and now—see! It looks almost as good as new."

ange.
Johnny—Yes'm.

Johnny—Well that's all right.

CHILDREN PREFER TO BE DIRTY

In the October Woman's Home Companion Mary Heaton Vorse, writing a story entitled "The distressing Doubt," tells how Tom and Alice Marcy have an adventure in childhood in which they find the good child insufferable and the bad child adorable. On little children's preference for dirt Mrs. Vorse comments as follows:
"Early childhood knows no good or bad, nor does it know clean or dirty. Or if it knows, it infinitely prefers dirty. Sweet pink and white childhood loves squashing rose bugs, cleaning fish and paddling in the mud; it delights in all things squashy and sticky."

"He won't let me take no care of him," complained Brick, as he conducted Wilfred to the dugout.
Wilfred cast a longing look toward the cabin, and again he thought Lahoma's parlor door quivered. He even stopped in the path; but Wil-lock went on unconscious, and he was obliged to follow.

"It's a strange thing," remarked Brick, as he descended the hard dirt steps, "how Lahoma has acted on me. I mean, living with her these past twelve years, and all the rest of the world shut out, except Bill.
Could I have been told before I saved little Lahoma from the high-waymen that I'd ever worry over an old coon like Bill Atkins, as to whether he broke his neck or not, I'd a' laughed, for I'd a' had to. But it sure does gail me to have him exposing himself as he does. I never wanted Bill to come here, but he just come, like a stray cat. First thing I knowed, he was a-purring at the fire-side—well not exactly a-purring, nuther, but sort of mewing, and looking ready to scratch.
He just took up with us and now it's like always being scared to close a door for fear of catching his tail in the jamb—I'm talking in a figger.
Come in, pard—this used to be Lahoma's boudoir before we built that cabin for her. See the carpet? Don't tell me you're a-walking on it, and not noticing! See that little stove?
I brung it clear across the mountains from a deserted wagon, when I was young. Two legs is gone and it's squat belled, and smokes if the wind gives it a chance, but I wouldn't trade it for a new one. Set on this bench, I recollect as well as if it 'us yesterday, Lahoma a-setting there with her legs untouching of the floor, learning 'A' and 'B' and asking thousands of questions and getting herself civilized. I couldn't do a finished job, but Bill took her by the hand later, then a Mrs.
Featherby, what moved over in the west mountain added stores from New England and travels in Europe.
When the settlers came, she gleaned all they knowed, always a-rising and a-looking out for new country.
That's a wonderful girl," he added with conviction.

When Bill came they sat about the stove, the light from the famous window bringing out with clear distinctness, Brick's huge form and bristling beard, Bill's thin figure surmounted by its shock of white hair, and Wilfred's handsome grave face and splendidly developed physique. It was so warm below the ground that the fire in the stove was maintained at the lowest possible state; but when the western light quickly vanished from the window, the glowing coals gave homely cheer to the crude room.

In answer to their questioner, Wilfred told of his experiences on his quarter section; how he had broken the prairie land, put in his crops, watched them wither away in the terrible dry months, roughed it through the winters, tried again, fought through another drought, staked all on the next spring planting, raised a half-crop, paid off his chattel morgage, tried again, succeeded.

"I've stayed right with it," he said gravely, looking from one to the other as they smoked in silence, their eyes on his animated face.
"Of course, they required me to stay on the land only during certain months, every year. But I stayed with it all the time; and I studied it; and when I failed, as I did year after year, I failed each time in a different way, because I learned my lesson. And when I'd walled off the causes of each failure, one by one, seemed like there opened before me a broad clear way that led right into the goal I'd been seeking from the first day. Then I closed out my deals, and looked and saw that everything was trim and ready for winter—and got my horse and started for Greer County."

"And glad we are!" cried Bill Atkins. "I hope you can stay a long time."

"That depends . . . Lahoma is well, I suppose?"

"The picture of health—when she left," Brick declared admiringly,
"and the prettiest little gal this side of the angels. When the early sunlight peeps over the mountain and laughs at the cove that's sulk-ing from thinking it's about to be

"Lahoma's not here?" Wilfred asked anxiously.

"Not now, for some time," an-

"I wish," interposed Bill glumly, "that when you're going to talk about me, Brick you'd begin with Bill and not be dragging me in at the tail end of what concerns other people. I reckon, Wilfred, you just traveled here to take a look at the country where you used to herd cat-

"That wasn't my reason. Principally, I wanted to see Lahoma;
and incidentally, my brother."

"Your brother? He ain't in these parts, is he?"

"No," ruefully, "but I expected him to be. When I left home to turn cowpuncher, I didn't tell anybody where I'd gone; but just before I left for Oklahoma, to turn farmer, I wrote to my brother. And about a month ago, seeing things clearing up before me, I asked him to meet me here at Tent City—he's interested in new towns; he's employed by a rich man to plant hardware stores, and I thought he might find an opening here. He came on, and was here several weeks with a party of sightseers from Chicago; but he left with them about a week ago."

Willock sat suddenly erect. Couldn't have been that Sellmer crowd,
I reckon, from Chicago?"

"Yes — Mrs. Sellmer and her daughter, and some of their friends."

Willock whistled loudly. "And that up-and-down looking chap in the gold nose-glasses was your brother?"

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute.
Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the fœtid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Dr. H. W. Little

NOTRE DAME MEN BACK FOR WORK

Catholic Pigskin Artists Report to Coach Harper; Hard Task Before Mentor

BY MIKE COSTIN (Written for the United Press.)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 18.—Despite the loss of Dorais, Rockne and Feeney from our last year's championship eleven, we expect to have just as strong a team this year, and if possible, a stronger one," was the statement of Coach Jesse Harper today, when asked as to the chances of the Notre Dame football team this fall. Despite his optimistic statement, however, it is known that the N. D. mentor is just a little bit worried over his 1914 team and the cause of most of his worry is the fact that he has lost "Gus" Dorais, one of the best quarterbacks ever developed in the west and a man who was considered the peer of any in the country in passing the pigskin from a forward pass formation.

The schedule of the Notre Dame eleven this fall is the stiffest ever arranged for the gold and blue warriors. In addition to tackling Yale at New Haven, they take on the Carlisle Indians at Chicago, Syracuse at Syracuse and South Dakota on the latter's stamping grounds. The Haskell Indians and one or two other minor teams will be met.

While the loss of Rockne will also be seriously felt, still Harper thinks he has a worthy successor to the Chicago Pole in Charley Bachmann, the best all-around athlete in school. Bachmann is a large, powerful fellow with a keen football sense and can play almost any position.

None of the crack backfield men were lost, except Dorais. Finnegan, Dugan, the Greenwood (Ind.) boy, Bergman, Pliske and Eichenlaub are the ground gainers left from last year's title holders.

Al Feeney, the crack Indianapolis center of the 1913 champs, has played his last game for Notre Dame and in his place this fall will probably be seen Fitzgerald, the largest man on the squad. "Fitz" played guard last fall and was rated one of the toughest men on the entire line. The remainder of last year's line will be back, including Gushurst, regular end of the 1913 team. "Gus" was to have graduated, but was flunked at the last moment and will be back this year, eligible for the term.

Test of Endurance.

All of us are weak in the period of growth, and are of small worth before the hour of trial. Adversity is the inspector of our constitutions; she simply tries our muscle and powers of endurance, and should be a periodical visitor. But, until she comes, no man is known.

JUNEAU STARTS FALL PRACTICE

Badger Mentor Starts Work to Round Few Vets and Many Subs Into Shape

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—The football season here is beginning to get started, and, of course, prospects just now are not the brightest. The badger aspirants for the conference championship are not yet claiming the title but some of their backers are showing just a touch of confidence.

Active practice under the tutelage of Coach "Bill" Juneau will begin shortly and experts claim that if he succeeds in building up a backfield, the Gophers, the Maroons and the Illinois will have to exhibit some exceptional football to get through the season with a clear record.

With a new assistant coach who will spend most of his time with the line men and with more assistants to devote their time to the tricks of special positions, the Badgers are sure that they will be well taught.

The sheepskin list last spring did not rob the team of line men as it did of backfield. The material for a stonewall is admittedly better than for years past and dopesters are paying little attention to the forwards.

In the backfield Juneau will start with but one regular—Buck Bellows. Bellows was a regular last year and displayed a line of goods that led his backers to expect a record this season.

Hoy Clayton, prominent here as an oarsman, is regarded as a candidate for fullback. He subbed in 1912 but discarded the mule skins last season. Kreuz, a Menominee youngster, made a fine record in the spring practice season, and it is believed that the experience of last season may have steadied him until he can hold a place regularly.

"Boots" Wiemar whose wrenched knee kept him from a place last year is confidently expected to equal the records of Van Riper, Bright and Berger, if he suffers no more accidents.

The Badgers have not yet given up hope that Louie Berger of the 1912 championship team will renounce his allegiance to Chicago university and take out naturalization papers here. He is practically sure of a place if he cares to come back. Bellows, Herbert Taylor, Al Kes- senich and Alfred Booth make up the list of strong candidates for the quarterback position.

The top of the morning doesn't necessarily mean a high time.

Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Thought It Stopped to Think.

One day while playing the music box my little cousin was sitting next to it, when she noticed that the music was stopping. She asked me what caused it to stop. I told her it was running down. She studied for a moment, then she said: "Why, does it have to think of another tune before it can play again?"—Chicago Tribune.

MANY CONVENTIONS AT FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 18.—More than 300 conventions will be held in San Francisco during the life of the Panama exposition. Of this number more than forty will deal with the products and problems of the soil and many of them are of an international nature, like the World Congress of Grapegrowers, which will have present representatives from more than twenty foreign countries.

DANDRUFF SOON RUINS THE HAIR

Makes It Lifeless, Dull, Dry, Brittle and Thin.

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and no matter how much dandruff you have, this simple remedy never fails.

"ROBBER BARON" SPIRIT

STANFORD, Cal., Sept. 18.—Doctor David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford university and who has been touring the world in the interest of a world peace, will not return to Stanford until late in November, it was announced today. In a letter received here from London, Dr. Jordan stated he would be in New York about the time of the meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Peace Foundation, on November 18, and as soon as that is over will come west. A letter received recently from Mrs. Anna P. Zschokke, who knows Dr. Jordan, has the following to say regarding his attitude towards the war: "Dr. Jordan boards near us, Kildare Gardens, London. He is greatly distressed over the terrible backset that civilization will get. He declares the robber baron spirit among Austria and Germany's aristocracy is responsible for the war."

The Rivals.

It was at Nice. Two English girls are standing at the foot of a hotel staircase roaring with laughter. "For pity's sake, Mabel, don't!" said one of the matrons who were with them. "They'll take you for one of those horrid American girls." An American girl happened to be standing at the head of the stairs and quietly observed: "I guess not, with those awfully big feet!"

AVIATOR TELLS OF THRILLING SCOUT

Companion Was Shot in Control Seat and He Himself Wounded

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—By Courier via Rotterdam to New York.—How a German aviator secured control of a falling aeroplane after his companion had been killed, is described in a thrilling letter received by his father today. It reads: "Dear Father, I am lying here in a beautiful Belgian castle, slowly recovering from wounds which I thought would kill me. On August 22 I made a flight with Lieutenant J., a splendid aviator, established the fact that the enemy was advancing toward us. In the region of Bertrix, we came into heavy rain clouds and had to descend to 3,000 feet. As we came through the clouds we were seen and an entire French division began shooting at us. Lieutenant J. was hit in the abdomen. Our motor was put out of commission. We were trying to volplane across forest in the distance when, suddenly, I felt the machine give a jump. I turned around as I was sitting in front, and found that a

TO LOOK OLD FASHIONED

Grace Margaret Gould, fashion editor of the Woman's Home Companion writes in the October issue of that periodical an article entitled "Fashion Takes Backward Steps." In which she tells what they mean. Following is an extract: "To be called old-fashioned—my, how it hurts! Yet to look old-fashioned is just the way you must look this autumn if you are going to have any pretence to style at all.

One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives, in spite of the scandal mongers.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity, therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty foods, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesium in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesium is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesium from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal take some of the bisurated magnesium as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

second bullet had hit Lieutenant J. in the head and killed him. "I leaned over back of the seat and managed to reach the steering apparatus and headed down. A hail of shots whistled about me. I felt something hit me in the forehead. Blood ran into my eyes. I was faint. But will prevailed and I retained consciousness. Just as we were near the ground a gust of wind hit the plane and turped my machine over. I fell in the midst of the enemy with my dead companion. The red trousers were coming from all directions and I drew my pistol and shot three of them. I felt a bayonet at my breast and gave myself up for dead, when an officer shouted: 'Let him live, he is a brave soldier.'

"I was taken to the commanding general of the 17th French army corps who questioned me, but of course got no information. He said I was taken into their field hospital and cared for. The officers were very nice to me, and when the French fell back I took advantage of the confusion to crawl under a bush where I remained until our troops came."

They Need the Money. It is no disgrace to die poor—but it's a mean trick to play on your relatives.

NEURALGIC PAINS

Among the causes of neuralgia the most important is the general physical condition of the patient. Neuralgia is most common in persons reduced in strength by overwork or some form of over-exertion, physical or mental, or by loss of sleep. Anaemia, or lack of good, red blood is a common cause of neuralgia. The reason for this is plain. The nerves get their nourishment through the blood. The nerves are badly nourished, they become inflamed and neuralgic pains are produced. These pains have been described as "the cry of a starved nerve."

Hot applications to soothe these inflamed nerves and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and carry the needed elements to the nerves is the correct treatment and one that has brought good results in so many cases that it is no longer an experiment. Headache, backache, sleeplessness, nervous debility, nervous breakdown, St. Vitus' dance and the functional forms of partial paralysis show good results under the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Send today for the booklet on Nervous Disorders to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It is free. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

EVERYTHING FLARES IN MILADI'S WEAR

Coats and Skirts for Winter Use Are to Leave Room for Action

BY MARGARET MASON (Written for the United Press.) The hat upon Belinda's hair Tips up with just a little flare; Her collar flares, her Russian coat Flares out decidedly you'll note; And in a manner quite discreet Her full skirt flares above her feet. In fact most everything she'll wear Flares up and out a bit somewhere. But I don't care a bit, do you, Unless her temper flares up too.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Isn't it just like fashion to decree flaring coats and skirts for the winter season when chill blasts find getting under flares the easiest thing they know? It's a great little chance though for lovely woman to get back her old stride for she actually can get there now with a long, swinging gait in the new full skirts. Some are frankly gathered or shirred on the waist bands while in other models all over pleats offer complete emancipation to nether limbs. Of course, this summer many pleated skirts of filmy materials were tried out either as underskirts beneath long tulle or lace or chiffon or the tulle themselves were pleated over a scant and plain underskirt. Now, however, there are pleats a-plenty—sun, box and accordion—and the entire skirts of the smartest tailor suits and frocks as well as the diaphanous evening gowns are made of 'em. Indeed the tailored girl's whole toilet is replete with pleats for the newest chemisettes and lawn vestes are all finely pleated like the bosom of a man's dress shirt and even the flaring roll collar attached to the chemisette is also pleated. And while on the subject of rolling collars it is sad to relate but true nevertheless that fair femininity is going to get it in the neck again this season. In plain words the high collar has already many a fashionable throat in its viselike clutch and is shown on all the chic plain tailored blouses for the fall and winter.

Along with the high tight collar Along with the high tight collar her coats, blouses, skirts and sleeves go lavishly garnished with buttons a la militaire it probably is a relief for a much buttoned maiden to feel that at least her feet are buttonless. Hence some of the very best ankles are all wrapped up in shoestrings.

A silly woman imagines that every man is a bore if he has good sense.

SPARTA MAN AT LECTURES

Alfred Johnson of Furniture House Attends Lectures in Milwaukee

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 18.—Alfred Johnson of the Sparta Furniture House, is attending a series of lectures at Milwaukee, this week, given by Professor Eckels, of the Eckels School of Embalming. Miss Mae Finger has returned to Hustler, after a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. W. Fullerton. Mrs. Fred Hale of Taylor, Washington, is visiting friends and relatives in Sparta. Vernon McAllister and wife of Covallis, Oregon, have returned to their home there, after spending several weeks with relatives in Sparta. Miss Mae Callahan has returned to

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is bloody, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

ERROR COST ACTOR HIS FARE HOME

Comical as well as serious errors are sometimes made in the transmission of telegrams. Howard R. Hall, leading man with Miss Ollie Eaton at the La Crosse theater, tells of such an error in a message to his father. "It was like this," said Mr. Hall, "my first season in the theatrical business I wanted to be a good fellow, and spent my money for a good time. But in San Francisco our star took cold, serious lung trouble developed and the company closed. There I was with $4.90 and across the continent from home. "My father had a business representative in 'Frisco, and to him I told my hard luck story, winding up by asking for transportation home to Washington, D. C. He could not do anything without dad's consent, so he wired as follows: 'Your son here broke. Shall I give him money for transportation home?' Father answered, 'Don't let him walk.' But the message was delivered thus: 'Don't. Let him walk.' "I finally got home, but my experience would fill a book. Of course my father never knew of the error until I reached home, and the best I got then was the 'horse laugh.'"

TRAIN YOUR COOK

The October Woman's Home Companion has a department called "The Exchange" in which readers give each other the benefit of practical suggestions growing out of house-keeping experiences. A Wisconsin woman tells as follows how she is training her cook: "My maid, inexperienced but intelligent, and I have together evolved a system by which I am acquiring an efficient cook. I plan the meals in our household for a week ahead, and while doing it write all the recipes of new dishes, that is, new to her, on ruled cards. Each morning I give her the 'bill-of-fare,' and the card or cards for the day, at least one new dish daily. By this means she is getting a large collection of cards, each one meaning a dish that she can absolutely make, for she does not file a card until she has been successful in making the food."

CONVENTION ADJOURNS

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 18.—After an enthusiastic session of two days, the fall meeting of the Columbia and Snake River Waterways association adjourned here today. Many prominent men addressed the association, urging that the north-west waterways be developed. They declared that the region would be benefitted greatly by the opening of the upper Columbia and Snake rivers to navigation and hydro-electric development.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, straked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

GERMANY—Official war office statement issued this afternoon said that while the general battle now in progress in France was still undecided, there were evidences that the French offensive was weakening. The situation in the east was described as satisfactory.

AUSTRIA—It was officially announced today that the main Austrian armies are now united in Galicia and so disposed that their rear is completely protected, and if necessary they can retreat to Cracow. The situation in Vienna and the chief cities of the dual empire, so far as economic problems are concerned, is described as very serious.

ENGLAND—King George, in his address proroguing parliament, declares the allies are fighting for a worthy cause and cannot lay down their arms until that cause is achieved.

FRANCE—The battle of the Aisne, now in its fifth day, continues without any material change, according to the war office statements. Both sides are depending on their artillery. The German movement on Nancy has been completely checked and they have retired from that neighborhood. General Bataille has been killed in action.

RUSSIA—Inspired newspaper appeals to Italy to join the allies are made in all Petrograd newspapers. An important troop movement, hinted at, is believed to be the long promised invasion of Germany. The attacks on the retreating Austrians are continued.

SERBIA AND MONTENEGRO—The Serbians have abandoned Semlin, which they took last year. Fighting still continues in Bosnia.

ITALY—Anti-neutrality demonstrations continue in many Italian cities and the agitation to force the government to take sides with the allies seems to be growing.

WANTS PRESS TO BOOST AMERICA

New York Editor Would Have Every Paper in U. S. Get Out War Special Edition

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—To counterbalance the "business inertia" which has existed in America since the outbreak of the war, James Wright Brown, editor of the Editor and Publisher, today suggested a novel plan, in which he calls upon every newspaper in the United States to take part.

The plan is for every newspaper in America to publish, on Wednesday, September 23, a special "Made in America Trade Expansion Edition."

"Fundamentally, the condition of American business is sound," said Brown today in explaining his plan. "The new financial system is being worked out on sound and liberal lines; we are at peace with every nation in the world, including Mexico. The great war opens wide the doors of American business opportunity. The only danger we face is that of apathy. It requires only characteristic American aggressiveness and confidence to enable us to reap a harvest of business trade."

SEIZE GERMANS ON DUTCH MAIL SHIP

EW YORK, Sept. 18.—The British cruiser Lancaster held up the Dutch West Indian mail liner, Com-mewijne, just outside of three mile limit today and took off 27 men, who, the Lancaster's commander, Captain Raasnoot, declared were German reservists. The liner was inward bound from West Indian ports.

The Lanmaster ordered the Com-mewijne by wireless to stop, at the same time clearing two of her guns. A lieutenant and a boarding party came aboard and demanded the passenger list. From it he checked off all German names and demanded that the passengers be produced. Twenty-seven were ordered into the Lancaster's boats as prisoners of war.

REFUSES AUDIENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Wilson today refused to receive the Chicago German-American delegation which desired to make replies to the Belgian commissioners' charges of German atrocities. Wilson took the position that he had refused similar requests on the part of American citizens.

SWITZERLAND RUINED BY WAR IS FORCED TO SEND ARMY TO HOMES

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 18.—Switzerland is almost completely ruined by the war. This was admitted today when orders were issued retiring the army which has been kept mobilized since the outbreak of hostilities in order to prevent violation of Switzerland's neutrality. The total daily expense to the nation for the period of mobilization is estimated at $300,000. To this enormous amount must be added the cost to the national industries, most of which have been completely ruined. The export trade is entirely at a standstill. The country inns, filled with tourists, have been forced to close their doors. The situation from the economic standpoint is admittedly desperate and Switzerland is suffering almost as much as if she had actually engaged in the war.

MINORITY VOTES ON NOMINATIONS

La Follette's Magazine Analyzes Results of Primary in Wisconsin September 1

STATE IS STILL PROGRESSIVE

Figures Prove that Badger People Have Not Gone Back to the "Good Old Days"

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—The La Follette viewpoint on the recent Wisconsin primary vote is expressed in a cover-page editorial in the senator's weekly today on what Wisconsin's vote shows:

"Philip, the reactionary, and McGovern, the bull moose, are both minority candidates. They are alike in drawing only a weak third of the republican vote," says the editorial. It is not signed by Senator La Follette and it is presumed was written by the office editor.

The editorial proceeds to analyze the vote to show that the nominations of the successful candidates for governor and senator were secured by a minority.

"There were six candidates for the republican nomination for governor," it explains. "Five of these candidates divided up the progressive vote. They were Dahl, Hutton, Roethe, Hull and Utman. The solid reactionary vote was cast for Philip. The official count, almost complete, shows this: Philip, 43,406; Dahl, 27,817; Hutton, 23,345; Roethe, 12,488; Hull, 10,841; Utman, 6,736. So, out of the total republican vote cast of nearly 125,000, the reactionary candidate who won the nomination on a plurality received only one-third. Two years ago this same Mr. Philip was a candidate for election to the national republican convention as a Taft delegate. His vote then and his vote this month are practically the same.

PROGRESSIVES ELECTED

"For lieutenant governor, Dithmar, who was Dahl's running mate, won the nomination easily over his reactionary opponent on the Philip ticket. Dithmar is a progressive republican. All the other state officers, Owen for attorney general, Donald for secretary of state, and Johnson state treasurer, were renominated with varying majorities over their reactionary opponents who were on the ticket with Philip. These officers are progressive republicans.

"There were six candidates in the field for the republican nomination for United States senator. Here are the figures (incomplete): McGovern, 36,078; Bancroft, 25,400; Morris, 24,228; Strange, 11,642; Estabrooke, 7,090; Burke, 6,500. Governor McGovern secured the nomination by a bare one-third of the total republican vote."

FEW SECOND CHOICE

The article states that the second choice vote, used by from 10 to 15 per cent of those voting, will not materially affect the result.

The newspaper reports widely circulated throughout the country to the effect that the Wisconsin primary results mean a defeat for the progressive movement are branded by La Follette's as containing "not a single word of truth."

"Wisconsin is progressive," concludes the editorial. "The republican party in Wisconsin is progressive. That was demonstrated anew by the votes cast in the primary of September 1."

TO VISIT UNIVERSITIES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—A visit to Columbia university, the universities of Philadelphia and Chicago, and probably to Canadian universities were planned today by the Belgian commissioners who protested against alleged German atrocities.

DESERT CAMPS

Mississippi river camps, cottages and houseboats which have done service to La Crosse people through the summer have in most instances been permanently deserted. A few still remain in cottages at Riverside.

It will soon be too late to raise the price of watermelons and white gauze socks.

SHOOT RUSSIAN CHIEF

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A news agency dispatch from Vienna says that an unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Count Bobrinsky, appointed military governor of Galicia by the Russians following the occupation of Lvov (Lemberg). Three shots were fired at him, one inflicting a slight wound in the shoulder. The assailant was executed.

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

BY J. W. T. MASON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—11 a. m.—The present disposition of the German empire's military strength indicates that diplomacy and strategy are working together to protect Germany from the ravages of the peace conference that will follow the war.

The German plan of campaign at the outbreak of hostilities was an offensive movement in France and defensive operations against Russia. This strategy now seems to have been reversed. The easy victories of Germany over Russia in East Prussia demonstrate that there are more troops in that area of hostilities than present defensive tactics demand. On the other hand, Germany obviously has an insufficient force in France for a persistent offensive.

The alteration of the defensive in East Prussia, into an offensive, while the initial offensive in France has become a defensive movement, must be intentional. The collapse of Austria's first line of strength in Galicia and the failure of the drive on Paris, have probably been the deciding factors producing this change in the German strategy.

Germany now occupies the best position she can hope for, from which to discuss peace. Her armies hold Belgium and northern France. Russia has been driven from almost all of East Prussia and German forces are carrying the war into Russian Poland. If Germany can maintain these conditions indefinitely she would fear nothing beyond the loss of some of her colonies. But it is improbable that such will be the outcome. The power of the allies is

MORE DELAY WITH "WAR TAX" BILL

Republicans and Progressives Unite Against Bill as Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Further delay occurred yesterday in the launching of the administration's internal "war tax" bill. Chairman Underwood hoped, however, to introduce the measure late today or tomorrow. Hopes of passing it before the latter part of next week have been abandoned.

A "conference" of all house republicans called for tonight was another obstacle in the path of the war tax. Republican leaders favor a solid stand against the bill, as a campaign issue for the fall elections. A similar "conference" of house progressives was being agitated.

Underwood and other democrats of the ways and means committee today put the finishing touches on the tax bill. It was still undecided whether the whole stamp and occupational taxes of schedule A of the Spanish-American war tax measure would be incorporated. But Underwood said he hoped to present a bill impregnable against amendment and one upon which all democrats would unite.

Representative Kitchen and several other democratic leaders are urging reduction of the stamp tax on checks to one cent, instead of the two cent levy of the Spanish war bill, or at least to exempt small checks, under $100 or $50 from stamp taxation.

Democrats of the house ways and means committee today completed three sections of the emergency revenue "war tax" bill, adopting the fifty cents per barrel assessed on beer and twenty cents per gallon assessed on sweet wine. The majority members decided to impose a tax of 14 cents per gallon on dry wines instead of the 12 cents originally suggested.

The stamp tax features of the bill, borrowed from the old Spanish war tax bill will be taken up late today.

RETURN GUNS TO MEXICANS

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 18.—The vast quantities of small arms which were taken from Mexicans at the time of the American occupation of Vera Cruz, were being returned to their owners today. Rifles which were taken are the only arms which will be held.

At last one thing has been found that can make more noise than Col. Roosevelt.

MAKES CANAL RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The American-Hawaii liner Honolulu, the first ship to bring passengers through the Panama canal from San Francisco, arrived here today. The Honolulu claims to have established a record for swift passage through the canal, making the run from Balboa to Christobal in nine hours and eleven minutes.

Miss Bergetha Thompson, proprietor of the millinery department at the Bartel company, 413 Main street, today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with Clerk of the United States district court.

PRAISES NERVE OF RED CROSS NURSES

LONDON, Sept. 5.—By Mail to New York.—In a letter from Sergeant Cahill to his friends in Bristol, is the tribute of an Irish soldier to the "Red Cross Girls." Cahill wrote:

"The Germans gave us no rest night or day, and those of us who have come through it will never forget to our dying day what it is to have to fight here. The Red Cross Girls, with their pretty faces and their sweet ways, are as good men as most of us and better than some of us. They are not supposed to venture into the firing line at all, but they get there all the same, and devil the one of us durst turn them away."

AMERICAN FIGHTS FOR THE BELGIANS

Dallas Man Born in Belgium Participates in Five Battles with Germans

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Arriving here on the Celtic today was Paul Vandevede, a resident of Dallas, Texas, who said he fought for a month in the Belgian army and took part in four battles.

"Although I am a citizen of Dallas, I was born in Belgium, and as I was in Antwerp when the war broke out, I immediately volunteered to fight for my country," said Vandevede. "I was commissioned a lieutenant of ordnance and put in charge of an ammunition train of motor trucks. I was in the thick of the fighting, as it was my duty to keep the artillery supplied with ammunition while in action, and aid the artillerymen in saving their guns in case they were hard pressed. I was in the fighting at Lian, Haalen, Haughten, St. Marguerite and Tielmont. At Haalen, forty cars of my train were destroyed, and three men killed while furnishing batteries with ammunition.

"At Tielmont, all of our men serving one of the batteries were killed. The Germans had the range and were dropping shells thick and fast when I came up with the auto trucks and endeavored to aid the artillerymen in saving the guns by hitching them to the train. Three motor trucks were smashed, but we got away."

U. S. MAY POSTPONE LEAVING VERA CRUZ

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The war department today was considering postponement of the withdrawal of troops from Vera Cruz until October 10, as suggested yesterday in a dispatch to Secretary of War Garrison from General Funston. Secretary Garrison is expected to make his decision within a day or two.

General Funston explained that more time should be allowed for transfer of the municipal government from the American military authorities to Mexican officials.

From official circles, however, it was learned today that fear for the safety of refugees in Vera Cruz was an underlying reason for the general's suggestion.

which would induce him to renew his efforts to act as mediator between the belligerent powers.

The message which he received yesterday from the German chancellor, he is disposed to regard as nothing more than a mere acknowledgement of informal inquiries.

At the same time it is understood that President Wilson will remain inactive only a short time. He will certainly continue proffers of good offices without, however, appearing obtrusive. It is thought probable that, after waiting a few days in the hope of receiving a more definite expression from Berlin, he will instruct the United States ambassadors at London, Paris and St. Petersburg to proceed informally to sound out the governments in these capitals on the basis of the German chancellor's statement should nothing more tangible be received in the meantime.

Won't Lose Territory

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—That Germany will refuse to consider any plan of peace that would deprive her of a single foot of territory was the emphatic declaration of Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador here today.

"Disarmament and the suspension of the race for naval supremacy depends upon the sentiment with which peace is made upon all sides," said the ambassador. "If one square inch of German territory is taken, the German nation will arm to the teeth again. A lasting peace is only possible if the allies recognize the policy of 'live and let live.'"

BRITISH PROUD OF ARMY'S SHOWING

Pleased that Their Troops Have Prevented Von Kluck from Breaking Left

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Pride in the achievements of the British army in France overshadowed all else today when the war office admitted that the British force had again prevented General Von Kluck's great force from breaking the French left.

In a series of desperate battles, the British threw the Germans back on the defensive, inflicting enormous losses. Much of the credit for the performance is given to the artillery under Gen. Sir Charles Fergusson.

Emphasis is placed by all of the newspapers this afternoon on the note in the king's speech in which his majesty declared that England will not lay down her arms until the object for which she is fighting is accomplished. This is interpreted as another notice that England will insist on Germany being decisively beaten before she will think of peace.

Meanwhile, additional troops are being sent to France to fill the gaps in the British regiments. The significant admission is made that the present battle is probably the bloodiest of the war.

TWELVE ENTOMED IN MINE CAVE-IN

SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 18.—Rescue parties are working rapidly today to remove the barrier in the Oklahoma slope of the Centennial-Eureka mine at Burke, hoping to rescue alive some of the twelve men who were entombed by a cave-in late Thursday. Several bodies had been recovered early today. It is believed the cave-in resulted from an explosion. Thirteen miners were in the slope at the time. John Wick, a Finn, escaped alive.

MAY CUT "PORK" BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—A cut in the rivers and harbors "pork barrel" bill to a lump sum of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 was seriously discussed by the senate commerce committee today. Senator Bankhead of Alabama made the original proposal that a lump sum of $25,000,000 be appropriated to be expended only on existing projects. Senator Burton, representing the republicans, said they would accept a bill cut to $20,000,000.

According with Section 1, of Article XII of the constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and Chapter 770 of the Laws of 1913, the following Joint Resolutions adopted by the legislature of the State of Wisconsin at the regular sessions of 1911 and 1913 are made a part of the foregoing notice and are to be voted upon at said election, to-wit:

(Jt. Res. No. 9, A.)

Joint Resolution No. 12.

To add section 13 to article VIII of the Constitution, relating to state insurance.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year of 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That there be added to Article VIII of the State constitution a new section to read: Section 13. The state may grant insurance upon such risks and in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and the limitations or restrictions provided in the constitution shall not apply to this subject, but provision shall be made for annual accounting for all liabilities assumed, and for the separation and safeguarding of all funds and property held by the state on account of any such insurance;" now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Wisconsin, be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will confer upon the legislature express power to enact legislation providing for state insurance.)

(Jt. Res. No. 18, S.)

Joint Resolution No. 15.

To amend Article XIII of the constitution, providing for the recall of public officers.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That article XIII of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to read:

Section 12. The legislature shall provide for the removal by call from office, by the qualified electors of the electoral district in which any officer is elected, of every public officer in the state of Wisconsin holding an elective office, except judicial officers;" now, therefore be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will enable the legislature to pass a law providing for the recall of all officers, including elective constitutional officers, but not including judicial officers.)

(Jt. Res. No. 22, S.)

Joint Resolution No. 17.

To amend section 1, article XIII, of the constitution providing for the submission of amendments to the constitution by the legislature by a three-fifths vote of the members elected.

Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That section 1 of article XII of the constitution be amended to read:

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the legislature, and if the same shall be agreed to by three-fifths of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, the same shall be published for three months before the next general election and shall be submitted to the qualified electors at such election; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution, provided that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted in such manner that the people may vote for or against such amendments separately;" now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will change the method of amending the constitution so that amendments may be adopted by an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the members elected to both houses of one legislature and approval by the people, instead of by a majority vote of both houses of two succeeding legislatures and approval by the people as now required.)

(Jt. Res. No. 19, S.)

Joint Resolution No. 21.

To create section 3a, of article XI, of the constitution relating to powers of cities and villages.

Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed, and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That there be added after section 3, of article XI, of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, a new section to read: (Article XI) 3a. Cities and villages shall have power and authority to amend their charters, and to frame and adopt new charters, and to enact all laws and ordinances relating to their municipal affairs, subject to the constitution and general laws of the state;" now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will empower cities and villages to amend their own charters and determine their own powers and authority, instead of, as now, restricting them to only such powers as are granted to them by the legislature.)

(Jt. Res. No. 4, A.)

Joint Resolution No. 22.

To amend section 1, of article IV of the constitution to give to the people the power to propose laws and to enact or reject the same at the polls, and to approve or reject at the polls any act of the legislature; and to create section 3, of article XII of the constitution, providing for the submission of amendments to the constitution upon the petition of the people.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That section 1, of article IV of the Constitution, be amended to read:

Section 1. 11 The legislative power shall be vested in a senate and assembly, but the people reserve to themselves power, as herein provided, to propose laws and to enact or reject the same at the polls, independent of the legislature, and to approve or reject at the polls any law or any part of any law enacted by the legislature. The limitations expressed in the constitution on the power of the legislature to enact laws, shall be deemed limitations on the power of the people to enact laws.

2. A. Any senator or member of the assembly may introduce, by presenting to the chief clerk in the house in which he is a member, in open session, at any time during any session of the legislature, any proposed amendment to the constitution or any amendment to any such proposed amendment to the constitution; provided that the time for so introducing a proposed amendment to the constitution may be

Germans Here Contribute to Fund for Red Cross During Present War

LA CROSSE TO h Maign dôm Many dollars may be sent from Germans in La Crosse to the headquarters of the Red Cross society of Germany.

Carl G. Zoerb, connected with the Leona Garment company last week commenced the collection of a sum of money among his friends. In a few days he raised $50 which will be sent to Giessen, Germany, tomorrow.

Members of the local branch of the German-American National alliance then conferred with Mr. Zoerb. They had not started a fund previously, and requested that the work of collection be turned over to them.

Members are confident that a large sum of money can be raised among the Germans in La Crosse.

session of the legislature, any bill or any amendment to any such bill; provided, that the time for so introducing a bill may be limited by rule to not less than thirty legislative days.

b. The chief clerk shall make a record of such bill and every amendment offered thereto, and have the same printed.

3. A proposed law shall be recited in full in the petition and shall consist of a bill which has been introduced in the legislature during the first thirty legislative days of the session, as so introduced; or, at the option of the petitioners, there may be incorporated in said bill any amendment or amendments introduced in the legislature. Such bills and amendments shall be referred to by number in the petition. Upon petition filed not later than four months before the next general election, such proposed law shall be submitted to a vote of the people, and shall become a law if it is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon and shall take effect and be in force from and after thirty days after the election at which it is approved.

4. a. No law enacted by the legislature, except an emergency law, shall take effect before ninety days after its passage and publication. If within said ninety days there shall have been filed a petition to submit to a vote of the people such law or any part thereof, such law or such part thereof shall not take effect until thirty days after its approval by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon.

b. An emergency law shall remain in force, notwithstanding such petition, but shall stand repealed thirty days after being rejected by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon.

c. An emergency law shall be any law declared by the legislature to be necessary for any immediate purpose by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house voting thereon, entered on their journals by the yeas and nays. No law making any appropriation for maintaining the state government or maintaining or aiding any public institution, not exceeding the next previous appropriation for the same purpose, shall be subject to rejection or repeal under this section. The increase in any such appropriation shall only take effect in case of other laws, and such increase, or any part thereof, specified in the petition may be referred to a vote of the people upon petition.

5. If measures which conflict with each other in any of their essential provisions are submitted at the same election, only the measure receiving the highest number of votes shall stand as the enactment of the people.

6. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state and shall be sufficient to require the submission by him of a measure to the people when signed by eight per cent of the qualified electors, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

7. The vote upon measures referred to the people shall be taken at the next election occurring not less than four months after the filing of the petition, and held generally throughout the state pursuant to law or specially called by the governor.

8. The legislature shall provide for furnishing electors the text of all measures to be voted upon by the people.

9. Except that measures specifically affecting a subdivision of the state may be submitted to the people by that subdivision, the legislature shall submit measures to the people only as required by the constitution.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will change the provisions of the Constitution which vest the power to make laws exclusively in the Senate and Assembly, so that the people may directly and on their own initiative enact laws and may reject laws passed by the legislature.)

Be it further resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That article XII of the constitution, be amended by creating a new section to read:

Section 3. 1. a. Any senator or member of the assembly may introduce, by presenting to the chief clerk in the house in which he is a member, in open session, at any time during any session of the legislature, any proposed amendment to the constitution or any amendment to any such proposed amendment to the constitution; provided that the time for so introducing a proposed amendment to the constitution may be

ULSTER WOMEN TO HELP RELIEF

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Ulster women, as well as Ulster men, will do their share for their king and the empire. The Ulster Women's Unionist council, of which the Marchioness of Londonderry is president, has sent to the lord mayor of Belfast the following letter offering to co-operate in the work of relief for the suffering:

"Today our men are responding to the call of the king and rallying round the flag, and we feel it is our duty to see that their families and dependents are cared for, and that any want and suffering that may result shall be minimized as much as possible. Associated with us are the members of the Ulster Volunteer Nursing Corps, all of whom are prepared to take up whatever duty they may be assigned or called upon to perform. We have also at our disposal numerous well equipped dressing stations throughout Ulster. We will assist in the distribution where required, all supplies of clothing, food and other necessities of life."

limited by rule to not less than thirty legislative days.

b. The chief clerk shall make a record of such proposed amendment to the constitution and any amendment thereto and have the same printed.

2. Any proposed amendment to the constitution shall be recited in full in the petition and shall consist of an amendment which has been introduced in the legislature during the first thirty legislative days, and so introduced, or, at the option of the petitioners, there may be incorporated therein any amendment or amendments thereto introduced in the legislature. Such amendment to the constitution and amendments thereto shall be referred to by number in the petition. Upon petition filed not later than four months before the next general election, such proposed amendment shall be submitted to the people.

3. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state and shall be sufficient to require the submission by him of a proposed amendment to the constitution to the people when signed by ten per cent of the qualified electors, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

4. Any proposed amendment or amendments to this constitution, agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the legislature, shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and be submitted to the people by the secretary of state upon petition filed with him signed by five per cent of the qualified electors, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

5. The legislature shall provide for furnishing the electors the text of all amendments to the constitution to be voted upon by the people.

6. If the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution, from and after the election at which approved; provided that if more than one amendment be submitted they shall be submitted in such manner that the people may vote for or against such amendments separately.

7. If proposed amendments to the constitution which conflict with each other in any of their essential provisions are submitted at the same election, only the proposed amendment receiving the highest number of votes shall become a part of the constitution;" now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will require the legislature upon petition, to submit Constitutional amendments to the people for adoption or rejection.)

PARALYTIC WOULD FREE HIS WIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Dr. Joseph Hand, a helpless paralytic, prayed today from the witness stand for a divorce for his wife. With his wife sobbing, Dr. Hand told the court she should have her freedom. "I should never have married her," he said, "for I knew I would become a paralytic. But I loved her so much I foolishly hoped I might be saved. She should not be burdened with me."

Decision was withheld.

Green Corn in England.
About 1890 an Englishman in Essex with greater wisdom than the rest of the people of England began raising green maize for the London market, and some growers in the Isle of Jersey followed, so that today green corn may be bought from a few firms in Covent garden and in the Brixton neighborhood, where reside many theatrical people who acquired the green corn habit while touring this country, green maize is sold and understood.

SPARTA MEETS BARABOO HIGH

Last Year's State Champions in First Game of the Year in State

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Sparta and Baraboo highs, old rivals, will clash tomorrow in the first interscholastic game of the year at the fair grounds. With eight members of last year's state championship eleven back on the team and with the addition of a number of promising material in the squad, Sparta backers are predicting a repetition of last year's success. The team averages heavier this year than last. The lineup for tomorrow's game is as follows: H. Hoffman, right end; R. Evans, right tackle; F. Farnham, right guard; P. Lloyd, center; R. Button, left guard; E. Button, left tackle; Roy Abrahamson, left end; Almer, quarter; L. Abrahamson, right halfback; J. McConnell, left halfback; A. Nicols, fullback; George Prill, H. Farnham and Leo Kowitz, substitutes.

RUSHFORD FORMS A MISSION CLUB

Ladies' Society of Presbyterian Church Study Missionary Work

RUSHFORD, Minn., Sept. 18.—The Ladies' Missionary society of the Rushford Presbyterian church held its regular meeting at the church parlors last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. George Brunner led the devotional exercises. A business meeting was held at the close of these exercises and it was decided to commence a Missionary Study Club, which will meet for one hour once a week, upon a day to be decided upon later. All are welcome to join this club, and no expense will be necessary. There will be a leader to take charge of the meetings. The club's object will be to obtain a broader and more comprehensive knowledge of foreign and home missions. The club will continue the meetings for six weeks. It was also decided to hold, in the near future, the annual Experience Social. This event bids fair to eclipse anything of the kind which the ladies have planned. Character costumes will be one feature of the evening. The luncheon served in the church basement after the Saturday's Missionary meeting brought in to the treasury the sum of $15.50. The hostesses of the day were Mesdames John McLeod and Ferguson. A color scheme of pink and white was very daintily carried out in the dining room and a large number sat down to the delicious lunch.

Back From Tour
Mrs. Will Amott, of Money Creek was in this city last Tuesday. Mrs. Omot and her sister, Mrs. D. A. Tiffany, also of Money Creek, have lately arrived home from a trip to Norway, being very thankful to see American soil again after the exciting experiences of their visit and the journey home, after the war was in progress. She states that all aboard the ship on the homeward route were in constant fear of the submarine mines. Difficulty was experienced also in obtaining currency which would be accepted. "A dream, and mostly nightmare at that," is the way the whole journey seemed to her.

Personals
Miss Christie McLeod, is in Winona, viewing the fair.
Miss Gladys Alm is employed at the Farmer's Restaurant now.
Gerhard Johnson, who has leased the Foss building near the depot, held the initial opening of the place a few days ago.

Word from Professor Sanford, who was formerly a superintendent of our city schools, states that he is slowly recovering from the illness which necessitated his resignation from the Winona Normal, where he had been teaching mathematics for some time after leaving here. He is in a private sanatorium near Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Overland, Mr. and Mrs. John Fossum and family and Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Johnson and family all of whom have been the guests of Mrs. George Austad, of Milaca, arrived home last Monday. Mr. Austad and family were former residents of Peterson, he being the butter-maker there for several years.

Ten men, each representing a company which furnishes creamery supplies, visited Rushford last Tuesday, to present bids upon the apparatus for the new Co-Operative Creamery, soon to be completed near the old creamery building.

Foster Green has taken the place at the Rex of Gerhard Johnson. Commencing with the month of October, there will be evening services held at the Rushford Presbyterian church. The evening services have been omitted during the summer months.

The near-by towns have secured their quota of our city school-mam's this year. Miss Margaret Layne teaches in Canton, Vivian Tagland in Wykoff, Loretta Hennessey in Spring Valley, Clara Hennessey in Wykoff, Anna Baaken in Wykoff, Katherine Dean in Stewartville. All of these do not teach in town schools, a number have the nearby districts. Selmer Skaar will teach in Henrytown this year.

Gustave Moe, another of our graduates, has just arrived from Langdon, Alta., Canada, and will soon go up to the State University to take a course in architecture.

A number of the young people of Grover, near here, have left home to take up work in college. The Misses Julia Boyum and Laura Highum have gone to Jewell, Iowa; P. Sergum, Archie Malad, Ben Arsvold and Ben Paulson have gone to Red Wing to attend school.

Leslie Dietz, one of the celebrated Cameron Dam Defenders, gave an illustrated lecture here Tuesday evening, at the Elite. Moving pictures of the "fight for rights" were shown. A good-sized crowd attended.

Miss M. Holtegard is employed at the Central restaurant.
Miss Elsie Maglesson is an instructor in the Chicago schools this year.

The Misses Margaret and Marie McGrath have left for their respective school work, Miss Margaret going to Lead, S. D., and her sister going to Montana.

Miss Clara Berg has commenced her duties as instructor in the Wilton, Wis., schools.

Hubert Ronneberg has resumed his work as a student at the Indianapolis Veterinary College, at Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Jorgenson and son, who have been recent guests of the Melgard home in South Rushford, have returned to Climax, Minn.

Cut Your Coffee Bill In 1/2

Save half the money you are wasting on coffee. Save yourself at the same time from the nerve racking poison of coffee by drinking Kneipp Malt. You will think you are drinking coffee when you drink Kneipp Malt. You will know, however, by the improvement in your health that it is something better. It is wonderfully invigorating. The money it will save you is worth considering.

Kneipp Malt Better Than Coffee

It is better than coffee in every respect. It is the most delightful and wholesome table beverage ever prepared. Kneipp Malt is made from the finest white chevalier barley malt, scientifically caramelized. It has the true flavor of bean coffee derived from the extract of the leaves and pericarp of the coffee plant.

Your Money Back If Not Delighted

Your grocer will return the money you paid to him for Kneipp Malt if you tell him you are not satisfied after giving it a full fair trial for 30 days. Ask your grocer for Kneipp Malt. Price 15 cents and 25 cents.

LA CROSSE MAN TO DEFEND BIG CROOK

Attorney F. H. Hartwell Will Carry Case of Yeggman to U. S. Court at Indianapolis

MADE DARING ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Was Leader in Jail Delivery but Was Later Caught After Being Followed Over the Country

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 18.—That J. S. Taylor, alias Gallagher, alleged to be one of a gang of most proficient postoffice robbers on the continent and one of the seven prisoners who broke from the jail here some time ago, is to fight the charges laid against him in the conclusion drawn here by United States officials from the fact that Fred H. Hartwell, a lawyer of La Crosse, Wisconsin, today appeared on the scene in the prisoner's behalf and it is understood will act as his attorney throughout the proceedings. Secret service operators followed Taylor from coast to coast for months before he was finally captured.

Blew Postoffice Safe
The direct charge against him here is blowing the postoffice safe at Plymouth, Indiana. It is thought that two other operators were with him but they escaped. Had it been known that Taylor was a professional he would not have been captured as his captor was a mere boy, who joined the posse of citizens, with an antiquated gun, and had he known the identity of Taylor it is not likely that he would not have taken the chances of capturing him after stumbling upon Taylor much to the surprise of both the young man and Taylor.

In Jail Delivery
After Taylor's arrest he succeeded in making an arrangement with one of the state prisoners who was going out, to secure saws and other material for a general jail delivery. He ingeniously contrived to get the end of a mop to the outside from a corridor and on a string attached to the mop, according to the federal officers, brought inside the jail six revolvers, some sixty cartridges, twenty fine saws and other paraphernalia necessary for the work in hand. The man outside made his presence known by a signal with a lighted cigar. Seven prisoners escaped the next day in broad daylight. The others were captured without trouble, one after being severely wounded. Taylor escaped and after being followed by secret service men all over the continent was arrested in Chicago.

Anderson to Hear Case
The case will be tried before Federal Judge Anderson who tried the "dynamite" case. The case has furnished columns of sensational reading in Indianapolis papers. United States Attorney Dayley and Mr. Hartwell were in consultation a long time but the outcome was not made public.

WOULD LIFT TANGO BAN

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 18.—The lid barring the tango and hesitation waltz from campus dancing will be lifted if the coeds at the University of California are permitted to have their way. At a meeting of the senior women the following resolution governing the rules of dancing for the coming year was adopted: "Resolved, That progressive dancing be permitted at campus dances under the following conditions: First, that the order of dances on the program be supervised to include waltzes, hesitations and one-steps; "Second, that the music be controlled in regard to orchestral selections. "Third, that a paid censor or standing committee of censorship be provided by the students welfare committee."

'FRISCO MAY GET BIG NAVAL BASE

Rear Admiral Charles F. Pond.

The creation of a great naval base in the Bay of San Francisco, to be the central station for outfit, equipment and departure of Uncle Sam's fighting ships in the Pacific, has been brought appreciably nearer by the outbreak of the European war. Rear Admiral Charles F. Pond of the Twelfth naval district, which comprises the Pacific coast's naval defenses from the Mexican border to the Columbia river, has laid before the department at Washington a general plan whose main features have been approved by Secretary Daniels and the general board.

La Vida Corsets

Are distinctly Parisian in conception, and peculiarly American in execution, which perfect union of ideas, with supreme art-craftsmanship, produces a patrician, classic standard whose excellence is a challenge for world comparison.

La Vida lines bespeak the latest word in fashionable shapings—their daintiness of fabric, resiliency of boning, comfort and wearing qualities, make them well-nigh irresistible to the woman of taste.

The fashionable creation of La Vida Corsets is expressed in all that goes to make up a perfect product. Each La Vida model is made for a specific purpose; every line, gore and seam is the concrete expression of a definite reason. Every fabric entering into La Vida Corsets is tested for strength, and intended for service, and the supreme combination of material workmanship and style are maintained.

BOY SCOUT CALLED GENERAL FRENCH

LONDON, Sept. 18.—There is one lad near London who thinks Gen. Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary forces is as big as the great position he holds. And if the English are forced, like the Germans, to recruit from boys under 17 or 18, Gen. Sir John French knows where he can find as gallant a company of loyal British youths, as ever fought for their King. Here is the story.

As an elderly, gray haired gentleman stood waiting for a tram near Westminster Bridge some weeks ago, there suddenly swept into view a rather nondescript company of ten or twelve youngsters—members of the Boy Scouts. The little company, to the monotonous beat of oil can drums, and led by a very freckled, very young man, who carried a staff from which ribbons fluttered, clambered up the embankment and drew up in double file column on the pavement, to the shrill "Alt," of the leader.

Objected to Laugh

The gray haired gentleman, who watched the evolution, smiled. The freckled leader blushed furiously, brought his staff down on the pavement with a bang, and looking the gray haired gentleman in the eye, said "Who the — are you laughing at?"

The gray haired gentleman, drew himself up stiffly, and apologized. The young leader was not appeased. Without a trace of pertness, but as though the organization for which he stood has been ridiculed, he said, still looking directly at the gray haired gentleman, "Well, if you want to know, we're doing a little bit for our country. It ain't much, but may I ask when you did yours last?"

The smile completely disappeared from the gray haired gentleman's face. As a workman, nearby, leaned to the Boy Scout leader and whis-

GIANTS TAKE ON CUBS TOMORROW

McGrawites Wait in Vain for Blowup of Braves; Rudolph Effective Against Cards

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Another afternoon with the Reds and the Giants will have the Cubs on their hands at the Polo grounds to distract their attention from the watchful waiting for reports of an explosion in Boston indicating that the Braves have scattered themselves over the landscape.

The McGrawites have now won two games in a row from the Reds, which adds nothing to their glory, but has prevented the Braves from adding anything to their lead, while they have been tearing into the Cardinals. Had the Giants cared to spend the entire afternoon on the field they might merely have stood at the plate and Douglas, the Red pitcher, would have passed them all around and won the game for them himself. He has a very hazy idea of the exact location of the plate and gave eight bases on balls and hit one man. The Giants scored three runs in one inning without making a hit. It was no great effort for Matty to hold the Reds at bay, and the Giants were not extended enough to show whether they have the spirit necessary welling up in their systems.

Stallings has James to send against the Cardinals today, which means the Braves are likely to make a clean sweep of the St. Louis series.
Fromme too, will likely be sent against the Reds by McGraw and Jeff Tesreau will then be ready for the Cubs tomorrow.

Here for a few hours, President Tener of the National league said the challenge of the Federals to be admitted to the world's series would be regarded just as the Federal league has been—as if it never existed. This includes such measures as hiking salaries to unheard of heights, secret drafts, elimination of the ten day clause from some contracts, and a few other little matters.

By beating Brooklyn when Ed Reubach blew up with a loud bang, the Cubs again moved into third place, three and one-half games behind the Giants. The Phillies advanced over the Pirates into fifth place by taking a double bill.

Society note for the Braves—Giants: Eddie Plank was knocked out of the box in two innings by the Detroit Tigers.

Young Pennock relieved him, however, silenced the Tiger artillery and the Athletics batted out a victory.

LA CROSSE MEN REACH MADISON

Captain Keeler, Stavrum, Hayes, Weimar and Wiebrecht Report
at Camp

MADISON, Sept. 18.—(Special.)— The staunch La Crosse delegation to the University of Wisconsin football camp arrived in town at noon yesterday. Four athletes, Eddie Stav-rum, Hayes, Weimar and Wiebrecht comprised the party. "Tubby" Keeler, chief of the squad from the western part of the state arrived Wednesday.

The first meeting of the year was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the gymnasium. Coach Juneau arrived late Wednesday night and his chief assistant, Wilson, arrived here at noon. These two outlined the campaign to the candidates at the meeting. After the meeting the athletes proceeded to Camp Randall. The coaches must remain away from the field until Monday.

Wednesday three chaps donned moleskins and warmed up at the camp. They were Ward Freeman, Don Byers and Walsh, a sub-lineman from last year. The warm weather was depressing and the men took things easy. Each is well down to weight and there was no call for exceptionally hard work in the hot sun.

SPIRITED DRILL AT HIGH SCHOOL

Coaches Horne and Puckett Drive Men Through Hard Drill and Scrimmages

The football spirit at the La Crosse high school is the best this year that it has been for many years. With a squad out large enough to keep three full teams practicing there are still enough men left over for substitutes for all. There are even a large number of freshmen out this year, a remarkable thing, in view of their usual shyness.

The first and second teams scrim-maged last night for about thirty minutes and began to show signs of the benefits of practice. The teams are quite evenly matched and there will be a tough scrap for positions on the first team before the first game. The second and third teams also had a short scrimmage and seemed to fight fairly even.

The second team is in charge of Coach Roswell C. Puckett. He tries to inspire spirit into the men and is making the seconds a matter of no small consequence. Harry Marshall has charge of the third squad which contains some of the smaller men.
He makes the men work and is getting material ready which will probably make the team in a year or two.

Zimmerman cost the Cubs the game and squashed any lingering hopes that the Cubs might grab the pennant.

New Shoe Styles FOR

Fall and Winter

Besides all the old Walk-Over favorites, we are also showing all the newest shapes and patterns for this Fall season. Our large variety of styles and patterns is bound to please you. We have the sizes and we know how to fit you. We are prepared with the unusual sizes, from the very small to the extra large sizes. Triple and double A widths for the very narrow feet.

Good feet depend on proper shoe fitting. Proper fitting is impossible without knowledge, plus proper sizes and widths. Can you afford to experiment with your only pair of feet by shoeing them at a store that may be lacking in either of these absolute requirements, sizes and knowledge? We have both. Let us show you.

KEEP RECORD OF DRESSES?

In the October Woman's Home Companion a contributor describes as follows what she calls her "dress scrapbook":
"When I was a young girl I bought a scrapbook in which to keep a record of all my dresses. Every time I had a new dress I cut a little square of the goods and a piece of the trimming and sewed them in my scrapbook. Underneath them I wrote the date I bought the goods, and either drew a small picture of the dress or described it. I also told the first place I wore it.
"Looking through this book in late years has brought me many a pleasant memory."

REMOVES FLOOR SPOTS.

In the October Woman's Home Companion appears a department called "The Exchange" a department devoted to household ideas contributed by readers. A Massachusetts woman tells as follows how to remove grease spots from floors:

"So many women grieve because there are grease spots on their kitchen floors and water with any amount of scrubbing will not remove them; just try alcohol to remove these same spots, and you will be pleased with the result."

WON $10,000 PRIZE

In the "About People" department of the October Woman's Home Companion appears a sketch of Miss Alice Brown who won the $10,000 prize offered by Winthrop Ames for the best original play of American authorship.

Miss Brown was born and brought up on a farm at Hampton Falls, New Hampshire, and though in the winter she lives in the old Whipple house in Boston, her summers are largely spent in her garden in Newburyport, Massachusetts, and on her farm at Hill, New Hampshire.

While the funeral procession moves slowly, violating the speed limits transports a number of men out to the cemetery.

"JIM" THOMPSON BACK FROM FRONT

Tells Tales of Europe in War Time After Return from Trip to Germany

ESCAPED ON THE LAST TRAIN

Had to Do Line-buck Through Frantic Crowd of Russians to Get Safely on Boat

James Thompson, he that was erst-while our genial county attorney, has returned from a European tour. On the twenty-fifth of July Mr. Thompson landed at Hamburg, Germany, the day after war had been declared between Austria and Serbia. He remained in that country until the departure of the last train out which would carry passengers, about nine days.

The fact that Mr. Thompson is an able lawyer, born and educated in America, of Norwegian parentage, adds to the interest in his story of Germany, because he speaks from observation of a mind trained to study the justice of situations and to view things from the angle of the best public policy.

Was Prepared for War
"Germany was prepared for the war down to the most minute detail," said Mr. Thompson today. "This preparation is the result of many years work made necessary by the position of the country in relation to the other countries of Europe both from a standpoint of location and on account of the old sores left by many previous wars. France was still moody over the loss of Alsace-Lorraine in '70, and Russia has always been a terrible menace to Germany from the other side.

"The building up of such a stupendous war machine, equipped as it is so perfectly with everything that money can buy or brain devise and constantly maintaining it decade after decade is worthy of the most profound consideration. It shows that it is possible for humanity to accomplish wonders in this enlightened age when their government is sound and public moneys are spent by men with the first thought in mind of seeing how much it will buy for the government, not how much can they absorb of it themselves, and still contrive to hold their jobs. THERE IS NO GRAFT IN GERMANY.

"As an illustration of how the government of Germany does things, the Government owned railroads may be cited as an example: You cannot get on to a train without a ticket to your destination and when you arrive at your destination you cannot depart until you have dropped the receipt stub into a receptacle to be checked against the original purchase. There is no chance for a railroad official to steal five cents in a year.

No Chance for Graft
"These railroad officials are honest men when they are employed because honesty is a German attribute. They remain honest because, at least in part, the opportunity is not present to be dishonest. While the honor of men there could be depended upon fully as much as among any other people in public affairs it is not the reliance upon which to build and maintain public confidence. In place of it is systematic business methods down to the smallest transaction. Knowing that the public treasury cannot be plundered under such regulations there is no suspicion of graft."

But, Mr. Thompson, suppose a passenger had lost his receipt and could not produce it at the end of his journey, what would be done about it?

"I don't know," replied he. "It would have been interesting if I had thought of trying it. In all probability they would make you pay your fare over again before you could get your baggage or get away."

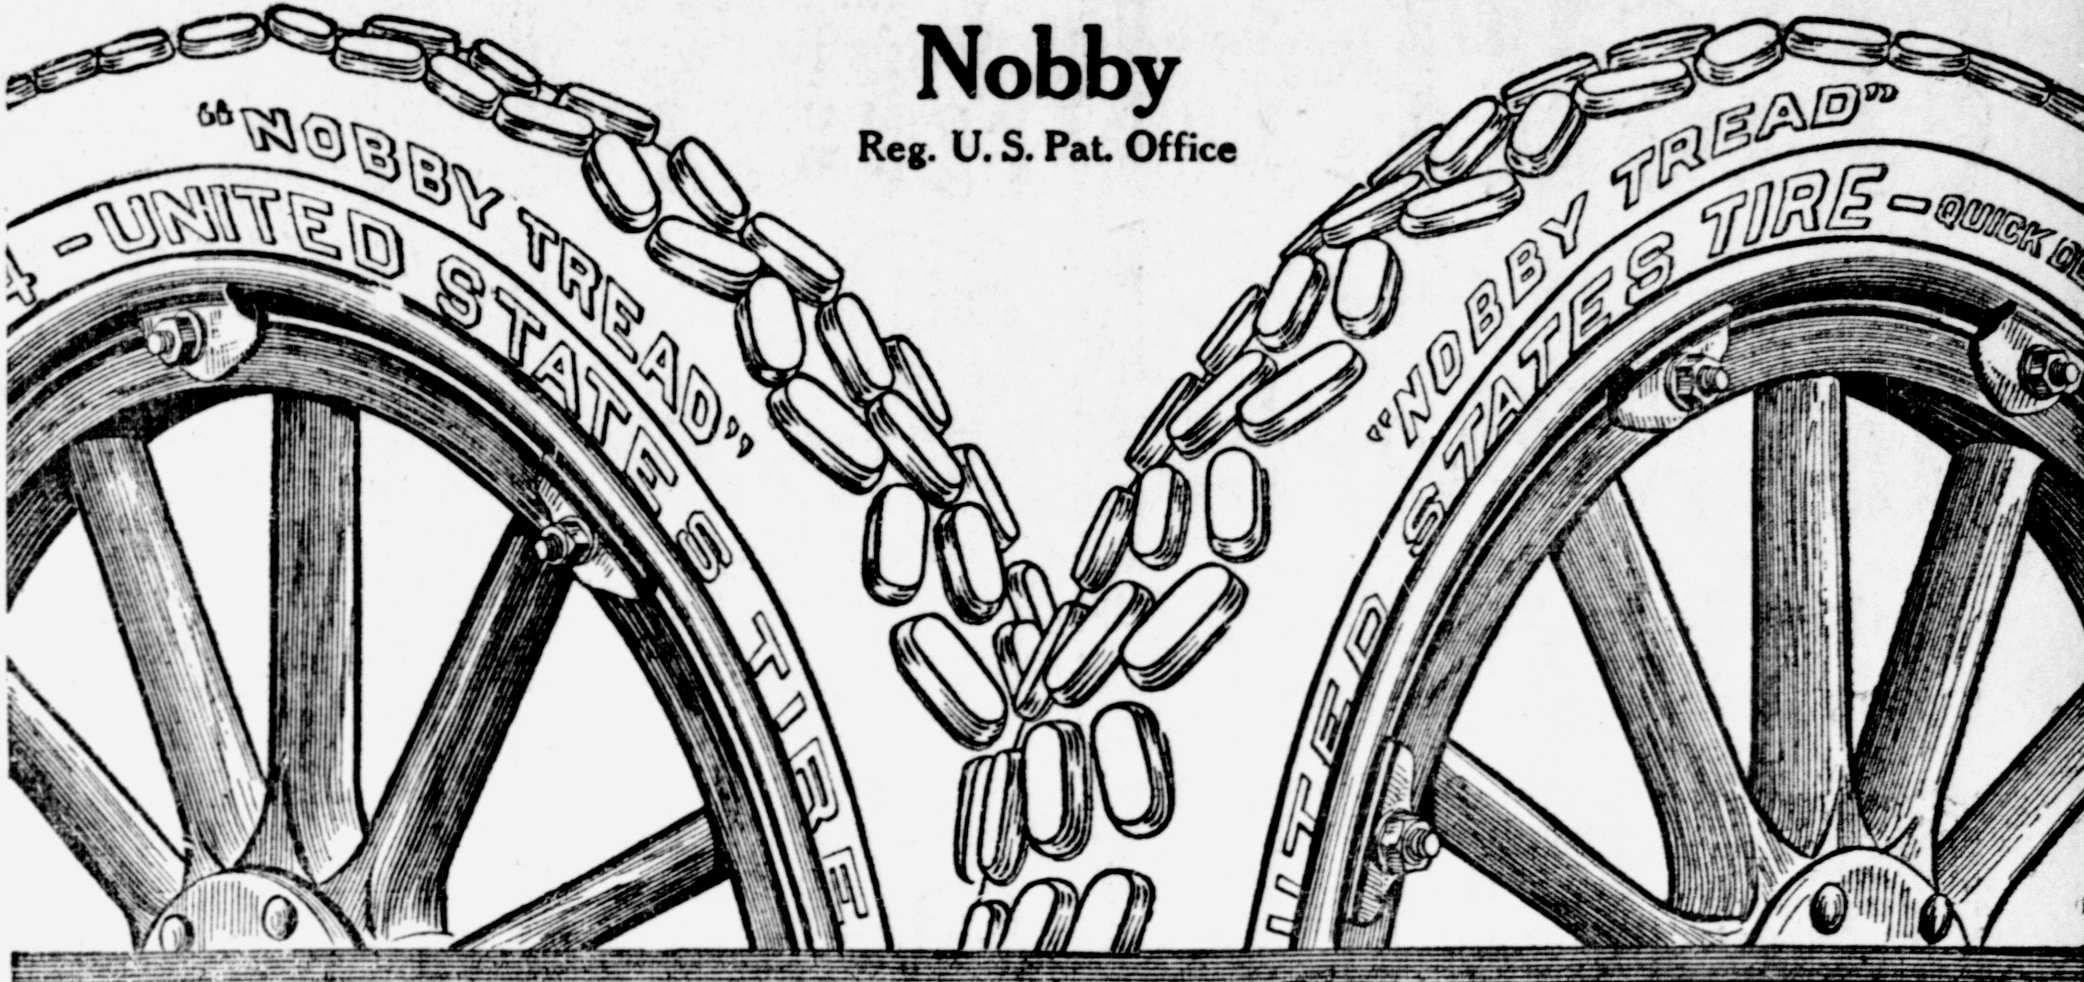

"While the German people have toiled early and late and paid a large portion of the results of toil into the government's hands for the purpose of preparation to resist invasion, they have also made immense progress in all other lines. The people have always had a large opportunity to complain about 'HIGH TAXES' but they have had the satisfaction of knowing that their money when spent by the government has brought its full worth. This quite in contrast with some other countries where the people's surplus has gone to build up an aristocracy of indolent if not idle wealth.

Can't Fix Blame
"If I knew who was to blame for bringing on this awful war I should be against him," said Mr. Thompson. "But it is useless to speculate upon that question, because, causes and antecedent causes array themselves behind each other back into the too much forgotten past to locate that man upon whom the blame can be fixed. Perhaps the best that can be done is to conclude that it is the outcome of too many rigid BOUNDARY LINES.

"The first day or two that I was in Berlin things were quite normal and I had the satisfaction of seeing its beautiful streets and buildings and mingling and talking with its people while they were yet comparative-ly unexcited. I saw thousands of men and women parading its principal boulevard, Unter den Linden, singing alternate lines of patriotic and religious songs. The solemnity and decorum of it all impressed me very much.

"A little later I was among the people as they crowded to hear their popular ruler deliver his address 'Der Kaiser am Sein Volk.' Afterwards I saw thousands of them standing hours to get a glimpse of him as

Two Tires in One

This is what the "Nobby Tread" Tire practically is—
Two wear-resisting Tires in One

The big, thick, tough rubber "Nobs" that prevent skidding, are made on a big, thick, extra strong additional strip.

Then this heavy strip is welded by hand and vulcanized on to an extra heavy, extra strong tire.

You have got to wear out the big, thick, tough "Nobs" of rubber before you even start to wear out the extra strong tire underneath.

Then comes the great big difference in the quantity and the quality of the rubber and of the fabric that is used in "Nobby Treads."

An unusually large amount of rubber and fabric is used in "Nobby Treads," and —only the very toughest and the best rubber, and —only the strongest, especially selected fabric.

Then don't forget this fact,

—rubber quality can differ and fabric quality can differ just as much as the quality of leather can differ.

These are the reasons for the history making mileage records of "Nobby Tread" anti-skid Tires, and based upon these mileage records

"Nobby Tread" Tires

he came down the street in a mighty gold ornamented auto without any regard whatever for the speed ordinance, if they have one.

"My visit was suddenly cut short by observing signs posted telling people like me that 'TOMORROW MORNING THE LAST TRAIN WILL LEAVE FOR THE BORDER!' This hurried me to the depot where I made hasty preparations to depart by paying a large sized tip to get my trunk checked through to Christiana, Norway. It was easy enough to get to the city of Sassnitz where the last train connected with a ferry boat between Sassnitz, Germany and Talleborg, Sweden.

Rush For Last Boat
"The train did not go as usual, down to connect with the ferry, but unloaded us three blocks away. Upon arriving in sight of the wharf my soul was filled with consternation as I saw about three thousand Russians ahead of me all crowding and blocking the way in their wild effort to get out of Germany alive. The ferry was not large enough to carry so many and that was the last trip also."

Jim doesn't like to describe this scene in detail but he said enough so that we could see a former college football athlete, born and bred in America out of VIKING STOCK from the land of the Midnight Sun, in full assault upon the Russian line handicapped only by a small hand satchel and his own modest disposition.

Thompson boarded that ferry. He had to do it. When he went aboard only one-third of the Russians were yet aboard. In that scrimmage Jim did not "lose sight of the ball." If the hose was turned on the crowd to stop the rush Jim ducked the ducking and doesn't mention the fact.

"The policemen of Germany are taken from the army. Those of Berlin do not carry clubs, and say PLEASE do this, or that and are obeyed without the slightest hesitation. All of the city officials must receive the endorsement of the kaiser.

"I visited a police court trial and saw much to surprise and impress me. The judicial officer is assisted by two side judges which represent the people. When an oath is administered everybody in the court room stands up. The judge repeats the oath and the witness must repeat it slowly after him.

As a sample of the protection extended to the public against false representations, all automobiles sold in Germany must be guaranteed for five years.

Farming is Intensive
"As you pass through the country on the train it is possible to gain some idea of the intensiveness of the agricultural methods. The farms are very small and they do not use modern machinery. It was harvest time when I came through and I saw grain being gathered in the old fashioned manner of the cradle and hand rake. However, every rod of ground is made to produce so far as possible. Buildings are small but very neat in appearance.

"My trip through Norway and Sweden provided an opportunity to see the most beautiful scenery that I ever saw. The trip from Christiana to Bergen takes you through hundreds of tunnels which pierce mountains and take you from a temperature of 90 degrees on a hot August day gradually up where there is perpetual snow.

"I did not visit Paris; I presume that if I had I should have liked it just as well as I did Berlin. I should like to tell you much more not only of Germany, but of Norway and Sweden but these are war times, and people are not so much interested in other things now."

ENGINE BURIES NOSE IN SAND

Wrecking Crew Works for Eight Hours to Right Switch Engine Off
the Track

Traffic on the Burlington into the south side station was held up for eight hours last night and this morning, the result of the derailment of a switch engine and one car near the Heileman brewery. No one was injured.

The derailment occurred at 9:50 last night. The engine plowed more than four feet into the sand by the side of the track, making the work of righting it difficult. The train was going south.

The wrecking crew and tool cars were called from Grand Crossing immediately after the accident, but so far was the engine imbedded in the sand that it was not before 6 o'clock this morning that the wreck was cleared up. All passenger trains were obliged to back in and out to and from Grand Crossing to the south side station.

SHEEP TRAIN PASSES

A train of 32 cars of sheep passed through the city at 10 o'clock this morning over the Milwaukee road enroute for Chicago. The cargo contained more than 2,000 sheep, and was valued at more than $30,000.

No Way of Finding Out.

Grumbling has always been considered a prerogative of John Bull, and not an agreeable one, but the incident taken from "England Without and Within" shows that it has its uses.

I had been a little over a week in London lodgings and had my breakfasts served by the housekeeper. One morning the maid said:

"I'm afraid we shan't satisfy you, sir, with your breakfasts."

I told her my breakfasts were very good; that the tea, eggs, bacon, fish, muffs and marmalade were good enough for any man and all I wished.

"Yes, sir, but you never grumble about anything you have, and so we don't know how to please you."

Those European rulers are all related, and they are acting just like relatives, too.

COURAGE.

Cultivate the spirit of courage. The timid man loses opportunities and is almost always a failure. Do not be timid. A great deal of talent is lost in the world for the want of a little courage. Every day sends to their graves a number of obscure men who have remained obscure only because their timidity has prevented them from making a first effort.

If you have been disappointed time and time again in the fit, style and finish of your clothes, don't "go wrong" again this season.

Judging a Cow.

A cow with a bright eye is to be preferred to one with a dull appearance. She will tend to business more than the other; also the one with large nostrils is to be preferred because the large nostrils indicate that she will always have a good supply of air to operate her lungs and so her other bodily functions will be performed promptly and regularly. A good cow will have short legs, and they will be smooth and without extra meat.—Farm and Fireside.

MRS. MERRILL IS CALLED BY DEATH

North Side Woman Dies at Home of Son in North La Crosse Thursday Afternoon

Mrs. Raymond Merrill, one of the oldest residents of the north side, died at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, Edward Merrill, 715 Wall street. Her extreme old age, 76 years, was the cause of death. She had been ailing for some time.

Surviving her are five children, three sons, L. T. and E. R. Merrill, and M. U. Merrill of Milwaukee and two daughters, Mrs. Harry P. Holway, of this city and Mrs. E. C. Leach of Orangeburg, N. Y.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the home, 715 Wall street. Rev. Everett E. Johnson of Christ church Episcopal will officiate. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

North street, Tuesday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Gustad, Engebretsen, Dugan, Johnson, Selbo, Knutson, Spellum, Pilger and Larson. Mrs. E. J. Fitzpatrick and Miss Louise Brown assisted in the serving.

Mrs. Mary Lowry, 1833 Wood street, has returned to her home after a visit with friends and relatives out of the city.

Miss Inez Nelson has returned to her home at 1817 Loomis street, after a visit in Henning, Minn.

Edwin Peterson, Brownsville, is the guest of north side friends and relatives.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson and daughter Marie, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Nesby, 1542 Berlin street, have returned to their home in Rose Lake, Idaho.

Mrs. Owen Davis, who has been confined to her home, 1522 George street, is recovering.

The Ladies' of the Maccabees will hold their regular meeting this evening at Woodman hall.

Hert Carlton has moved his household goods from 1601 Avon street to 1608 Charles street.

O. H. Grothe has moved his household goods from 1116 Rose street to 617 Caledonia street.

More Fickle Than the Weather.

There is one quite naked piece of nonsense which must be destroyed if modern society is to go on at all. That is the pretense of teaching things "scientifically" which are not in their own nature scientific. A man may learn to be a good prophet about the stars; he may learn, after long assiduity and self culture to be a self prophet about the weather, but no man would dare to predict his wife's temper, even falsely. It is not a scientific subject. It is impossible to imagine whether the wife would be more annoyed if he prophesied wrong or if he prophesied right. Let a man keep a weather chart, then, but not a wife chart.—G. K. Chesterton.

EVERYBODY'S GOING TO GREAT FALLOPENING
Saturday, Sept. 19

There will be Living Models to show you the Newest Creations. To offer such elegant Fall Styles as we are presenting in this great Opening, at prices far below what other stores can sell them, and to give you the benefit of the most liberal credit, demands the most perfect organization. Stores without our excellent facilities for buying in tremendous quantities and our ability to get first choice of the very latest and advanced styles, cannot offer values anywhere in the same class with these.

LADIES' SUITS—There has never been such a radical change in Women's Suits. POPLINS, BROADCLOTHS, GABARDINES, CHEVIOTS and SERGES, in all the striking new colors. Misses' and Women's sizes. Prices from $12.50 to $35.00.

LADIES' COATS—The stunning new cape effects predominate in this season's showing. Striking Mixtures, more conservative BROADCLOTHS, PLUSHES and CHEVIOTS make up our coat line which will be second to none in the line. Full and three-quarter length models in all sizes for Misses and Women. Prices range from $7.50 to $35.00.

DRESSES—Fashion says that the new Basque Models will be worn this season. Also a tendency is noticed for long Russian Tunic effects in dresses. A full line of all Wool Serges, from $7.50 to $25.00. Silks of all descriptions, from $10.00 to $35.00, for both Misses and Ladies.

SKIRTS—The skirts show the same tendency as the dresses, and long Russian Tunics will predominate. Other more conservative models are in the line, also pretty knife and box plait effects.
 Prices from $4.00 to $10.00.

WAISTS—Lingerie, Crepe de Chine, Nets and Messalines are being shown in very stylish models, in colors to match the suits. Very pretty selection. Any number of models to choose from.
 Lingerie from $1.00 to $3.00.
 Silks from $2.00 to $6.50.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING—The same store that clothes you so well will clothe your boy or girl to equal advantage. You can get here everything for the children from head to foot and have it charged to your own account—you just pay a little each week.

MEN'S SUITS
 Nobby, stylish Suits with the true English drape and swing. Pinstripes, Serges, Cheviots, Cassimeres, all the leading materials and fancy effects. Assortments are so complete that every man or boy will find here just the Suit to fit him and his purse. Prices from $12 to $35.

MEN'S OVERCOATS
 Grays, Browns, Blacks, some with convertible collars, some with velvet collars, all the season's latest models. Manufacturing all of our men's clothing ourselves we give you far better value than you can obtain elsewhere, and you save the middleman's profit. Prices from $10 to $35.

MORNING PLUNGE MAKES BIG SPLASH

Comedy Hit at Majestic; Andrews Instructs and Entertains with "Red Bottle"

In one of the most original and amusing and at the same time pointed comedies seen here in a long time, "A Morning Plunge," Howard Langford and Jacqueline Tallman work together in a round of mirth and melody, supported by a well balanced and talented chorus of ten people at the Majestic the latter part of this week.

Miss Tallman as Cinderella Jones, a summer flirt at the seashore, scores a decided hit through her dainty handling of the part. Mr. Langford, as a "movie" man, also does well.

Prof. Frederick Andrews with his "Red Bottle" presents the act of the season. The number is an enlargement of the old "Wonder Kettle" and is filled with interest from start to finish. Liquid air, the fluid with a temperature of more than three hundred degrees below zero, is the medium. Numbers of amusing and mysterious tricks are done with the fluid such as lighting a cigar, making ice cream in a chafing dish and boiling the liquid on ice. Several interesting tricks are done with the vapor of the liquid air, which is largely pure oxygen, such as burning a cake of ice.

Sam Hood works alone in a clever and amusing blackface act. His repertoire of jokes and pranks is seemingly inexhaustible.

Miss Adele Sturtevant, in a comedy singing number, is received well, answering a host of curtain calls, each time with a hit.

Brickley and Moore, in a singing, talking and up-side-down dancing act, make a hit by their eccentric dancing and stage costumes.

Thought Gorilla a Myth.

It is a strange fact of natural history that the gorilla was unknown to science until the middle of the last century, when there was a migration of the animals from the interior of Africa towards the coast, probably in quest of food. The first scientific investigation of the great ape was made by an American missionary, Rev. Leighton Wilson. He was met with jeers that "there ain't no such animal," until, towards the close of 1846, he obtained a skull and sent it to the Boston Museum of Natural History.

Good Disinfectant.

The addition of strong vinegar or dilute sulphuric acid to chloride of lime materially increases its effectiveness as a disinfectant.

PUT THEM IN THEN PULL 'EM OUT

Work will be started tomorrow on the removal of the dangerous half of the wing dam on the Mississippi just above the mouth of Black river. The United States dredge boat Apache has been working for the past month at Winona and for the past week has been at River Junction. The dam to be removed was built when a different theory for deep channels was being followed.

Encourage Children to Play.

Play gives joy, freedom, contentment and occupation. A child who plays thoroughly, with perseverance and determination, will be thorough and persevering in life. Children are full of imagination, which finds expression in their games and play. A child's world is very real. Blocks, balls, water colors, scrap books, sands, spoons or garden tools have a significance for him.

So many women regard man as an opportunity until they know him better.

OATS HEADS LIST IN LACROSSE COUNTY

Yield During 1913 was 884,007 Bushels According to Assessors; Corn Comes Next

MANY APPLES ARE GROWN HERE

Potatoes Also Plentiful and Millions Are Invested in High-bred Milch Cows

Oats head the list for all grains raised in La Crosse county during 1913 with a yield of 884,007 bushels. Corn comes next with 762,670 bushels and barley is third with 274,192 bushels. Only 42,688 bushels of wheat was raised in the county during the year.

La Crosse County assessor's books show the total number of bushels of grain grown in the county last year, and the entire production of other agricultural products. The report completed today shows that La Crosse county has land which is productive of the humble but valued "spud" and gives the yield at 147,467 bushels. There were 52,685 bushels of buckwheat, 945 bushels of flax seed, 52,000 bushels of beans, and 11,933 bushels of peas raised.

Many Apples Grown Apples headed the list of fruits with 24,229 bushels grown. Strawberries lead the list of small fruits, the other varieties showing small production.

La Crosse county had nearly three thousand acres in wheat, nearly twenty-four thousand acres in corn, and thirty thousand acres in oats. Barley and rye showed large acreages.

There are 22,721 acres of growing apple trees, with nearly six hundred acres in orchard.

Millions in Cows The county has 41,001 acres in growing timber, and over twenty acres in grass for hay. Over three quarters of a million dollars was invested in milch cows in the county last year, with 17,984 head. Of other cattle there were 11,072. There were 5,463 horses in the county.

HIGGINS HOST AT FAREWELL PARTY

Retiring Manager of Gas Company Entertains the Employees at Stag Dinner at His Home

A stag party tendered to his employees by retiring Manager A. W. Higgins of the La Crosse Gas and Electric company at Mr. Higgins' residence, 720 Cameron avenue, proved a great "send off" for a man going no further than Indianapolis. The gentlemen wished Mr. Higgins a good time and presented him with a gold watch guaranteed to keep the good time.

Among the guests were B. T. Gifford, Grand Rapids, Mich., general manager of the Kelsey Brewer interests; B. J. Flemming of Red Wing, Minn., and J. M. Moncrief, formerly of New York City, who succeeds Mr. Higgins as manager of the La Crosse properties.

Other guests were J. M. LaVaque, J. J. Thorpe, H. Hanson, T. Bramwell, H. B. Peisch, J. B. Parsons, Jay Parsons, Oscar Schumacher, George Ross, William Frisch, Fred Klaus, Frank H. Evans, L. M. White, P. R. Linker, S. T. Stewart and Emil Niemeyer.

The tables were decorated with American beauty roses which gave tone to a dinner which occupied the enthusiastic attention of the gentlemen, and the host was "boosted" and toasted as one cannot be toasted in dry territory.

The new music which is destined to give Walter Goetzinger and Emil Niemeyer front seats in the hall of fame won recognition from a delighted audience, and after Mr. Niemeyer's rich baritone had boomed the favorites once the other guests caught up the airs and made the evening merry with their melody.

Coffee Bean's Growth.

Healthy coffee trees produce in the axilla of each leaf from twelve to sixteen buds, which in flowering have an exquisite perfume. These flowers become dark and wither and fall off in two or three days, leaving groups of seeds on the small stems. These in turn grow into the coffee berries, which closely resemble dark red cherries. Each berry contains two seeds, growing face to face, and these are the coffee beans of commerce.

Mildew Stains.

Mildew stains are sometimes a source of great trouble, and are difficult to remove unless you know just the right way. Rub a little soap over the mildew spots, and on top of this a little chalk and lemon juice. If the garment is then put out in the sun for a couple of hours and afterwards washed in the usual way the spots will disappear.

Impartial.

Barber—Want a hair cut, sir? Customer—I don't believe in partiality. I want 'em all cut.

HALF MILLION IN J. J. HOGAN WILL

Who Died Recently at Wauwatosa

SONS AND DAUGHTERS BENEFIT

Old Employees of the Hogan Company Also Remembered; Provide for Sale of Wholesale House

Sons and daughters are the chief beneficiaries under the will of the late James J. Hogan, filed for probate at the county court house this morning and which disposes of an estate in Wisconsin valued at approximately $500,000.

The real estate is listed at $100,000 and the personal property is valued at $325,000.

To Amanda C. Hogan, his wife, the sum of $400,000 per annum is allotted. To his son, James C. Hogan and his daughters, Gertrude M. Hogan and Lucy M. Hogan, the rest of the estate is left to be divided equally.

Requests were made to faithful employees of the J. J. Hogan Wholesale Grocery Co.

The will also authorizes the sale of the wholesale business bearing his name, at the discretion of the trustees.

The widow, two daughters and the son, James, are named executors.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The admiralty today ordered an inquiry into the loss of the training ship Fishguard which foundered off Portland yesterday with a loss of twenty-one lives. Of these, twelve were boys.

AUSTRIA DENIES ROUT OF ARMIES

Assert Main Defenses of Przemyśl Still Hold Out and Armies Are United

IS POPULAR DEMAND FOR PEACE

Newspapers Contain Veiled Suggestions but Official Declaration Is Lacking

VIENNA, Via Rome, Sept. 18.—The Russian armies led by Generals Rousky and Brusiloff are today making a determined assault on the Austrian center which holds the line from Jaroslav to Przemyśl. The chief points of attack are the fire forts at Przemyśl; which command the San river. The Russians are admitted to have occupied part of the Przemyśl defenses to the south of the town.

Armies United

The entire Austrian armies are now united. The right wing, now commanded by General Boroewio, centers at Drohobycz and holds the railway line from there to Chyrow, thus ensuring an excellent line of retreat.

The left, commanded by General Dankl, who now has the assistance of the Archduke Francis Frederick, maintains a position extending from the Vistula river near the Russian frontier to the extreme left of General Von Auffenberg's central army at Jaroslav.

The fighting continues everywhere with unabated ferocity but the war office specifically denies that at any point have the Austrian forces been routed.

Demand for Peace

General conscription under the decree signed by the emperor is now in progress. There is a general movement here toward peace, the newspapers containing veiled suggestions, but up to the present there has been no official declaration of any kind.

The economic situation continues to grow worse. There is practically no money in circulation. All business has closed down and the few provision stores that still remain open are charging prohibitive prices.

Knew His Colleague.

Two Manhattan physicians were enjoying the breeze from the front seat on the "hurricane deck" of a Riverside Drive bus one afternoon, when part of their conversation was overheard. It ran like this: "I performed an operation for appendicitis on the wife of a millionaire yesterday," said the stouter of the pair. "Yes," said the other. "What was she suffering from?"

Java Surpasses Egypt.

Java possesses ruins of temples of a vanished religion that in vast wealth of sculpture surpass anything Egypt can show.

MUST FILE ACCOUNTS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—The obligation of unsuccessful primary candidates to file expense accounts with the secretary of state does not end until their final statement is filed. While the law does not require them to make final statements until thirty days after the primary election, defeated candidates may make them at any time.

Chicago Grain Review.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Strength of the wheat market was emphasized today when the three leading grain centers, Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth, absorbed a heavy run of two million bushels while prices here went higher instead of making the expected decline. There was no trading in September futures in the forenoon, but at noon December and May were 1 1/2 to 1 7/8c over last night's closing figures.

Corn was easier at the start under scattered selling, but had rebounded to a shade to 3-8c over last night's close.

Oats were firm and higher at the start and showed gains of about 5-8c on account of the firm feeling in wheat.

Provisions were weak and lower early in the day on account of a weak hog market, but firmed toward noon.

Wheat closed at noon prices. Corn advanced 1/4 to 3-8c for the deferred months and 1 3-8c for September in afternoon trading, but oats showed a slump of 3-8 to 1-2c. Provisions rallied a trifle in the afternoon.

SUBSCRIPTION NOT TAXES URGED FOR MILITARY FUNDS

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Establishment of voluntary systems of raising money for military preparations was advanced here today as the best method for obtaining international peace and national efficiency, in a speech by Roger W. Babson, before the annual meetings of the National Efficiency society.

"No nation can become really efficient," he declared, "under a system of arbitrary taxation to keep up armaments, while depending on voluntary subscriptions for maintenance of trade schools, commerce schools and other branches of industrial training. All talk of efficiency is hypocritical if not humorous, so long as sixty-five cents of every dollar of taxation which 'peaceful' nations, like our own, collect is spent for military and pensions."

TWO WED UNDER COMMON LAW

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—The seventh common law marriage contract to be signed by Dane county couples this year was filed with the register of deeds here by John H. Younger and Clara A. Younger of this city. The contracting parties declare that "there being no legal reasons why we should not become husband and wife, do declare and publish that we are from henceforth on husband and wife and will hold toward each other the relation of husband and wife with all the responsibilities and duties which the law allows to such relation."

No health examination nor marriage license is required for common law marriage proceedings, and the only charge is a filing fee of ten cents.

M'GREGOR GIRL WEDS DR. FINLEY

Miss Grace Donovan Married to Dr. William Finley of Lonsdale in St. Mary's Church

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Sept. 18.—The wedding of Miss Grace Donovan and Dr. William Finley was solemnized at St. Mary's church yesterday. Father Conroy of Dubuque conducting the ceremony and celebrating mass. The church was decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of white daisies. The bride and groom unattended entered the church to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Miss Florence Donovan, a sister of the bride, accompanied on the violin by Miss Lucille Dunn of Dubuque. Miss Ellen Donovan, another sister, sang "O Promise Me" at the close of the ceremony. Several violin selections were played by Miss Dunn during mass.

From the church the bridal party went to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding breakfast was served. The young couple left in the afternoon for Chicago. After a few days' visit there and in Milwaukee and Ferryville, Wisconsin they will return to McGregor for a short visit before going to Lonsdale, Minnesota, where the groom has a home ready.

Dr. Finley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Finley of Ferryville, Wisconsin. He graduated from the College of Medicine of the University of Minnesota in 1913. He was the president of his class and a member of Phi Beta Pi fraternity. Since graduation he has been practicing at Lonsdale. Mrs. Finley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Donovan of McGregor and a popular member of the younger set. For the past two years she has been in Minneapolis in charge of the Western Union office in the New York Life building.

Sheriff Bergmyer passed through McGregor Tuesday evening with five Clayton county prisoners for the reformatory at Anamosa. The five were given sentences of 20, 15 and 10 years at the District Court at Elkader last week. They were all under thirty years of age, two of them in their teens. Three, two brothers and a brother-in-law were convicted of burning a building near Littleport. The other two were sentenced, the one for forgery and the other for burglarizing the J. H. Freese jewelry store at McGregor.

The big dredge which has been at work for the Burlington Railroad in the Wisconsin river three miles south of McGregor has been taken up river and put in winter quarters. It is said the Burlington has stopped work on the double tracking on account of the war.

The rural schools of this township will open next Monday with the following teachers: Pleasant Ridge, Marguerite Horning; Summit Hill, Olive Ormsby; Moody Hill, Fred Phillips; Andy Magill, Grace Bass; Swede Ridge, Ruth Bass.

Theodore Nelson has been awarded the contract for the interior decorating of the Congregational church at Elkader.

New residents in town are Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown, who have moved into the residence on Grand Avenue. Recently occupied by Frank Ohmer.

Mrs. Henry Noble of Seattle, Mrs. Virginia Noble of Minot, N. D. and Mrs. John Day of New Orleans arrived Monday to spend several days in town.

The remains of John Day have recently been brought from New Orleans and placed in the cemetery at Decorah, where the family formerly lived.

William O'Reilly has returned to Iowa City where he will be a senior in the law school of the State University.

Miss Mary Tull of Chicago, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gertrude De La. Mrs. George Guthrie, Mrs. W. Hagensack and Mrs. H. Reynolds entertained at cards Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Hagensack in honor of Mrs. Anna Specht, who is visiting in McGregor from Portland, Oregon.

The application of Carl Asselin, executor of the will of John Asselin, deceased, late of the Town of Campbell, in said county, for the determination and adjudication of the inheritance tax, if any, payable in said estate.

Dated September 2, A. D. 1914.

By the Court,
JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.
MORRIS & HARTWELL,
Attorneys for Executor.

LUSITANIA TRANSPORT?

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The Giant liner Lusitania had hardly warped into her dock about 1:30 this morning, when her crew began immediately the work of recoaling. It was reported the boat will be rushed to Halifax tonight to carry Canadian troops to England. The Lusitania was to have remained at anchor in the Narrows all night and a big dance had been planned. Rush orders to proceed to her dock ended the festivities. On board the Lusitania were 1,502 passengers, 605 in the saloon.

SERVANTS LEAVE SEMLIN TO ENEMY

NISH, Servia, Sept. 18.—In pursuance with the general plan to concentrate the Servian army on Bosnia and not to move into Slavonia, the entire Servian army has been withdrawn from Semlin. The Austrians have reoccupied the town. The advance of the combined Servian-Montenegrin armies on Sarajevo is reported as progressing uninterruptedly.

Morality and Intelligence.

It almost looks as if intelligence and morality were two distinct things, and that it is safer to have intelligence than morality. A person who has the former may get off scot-free, but to him of weak intelligence his morality is of little avail when it suits the purpose of those who have the power of sequestering him, to use it. —Exchange

SULPHUR IS THE ONLY THING FOR ITCHING ECZEMA

Use like cold cream to subdue irritation and clear the skin.

In the treatment of the various forms of disfiguring, itching and burning Eczema such as Acne, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, there is nothing known that can take the place of bold-sulphur cream.

It effects such prompt relief, even in the aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. Bold-sulphur is not only parasiticide, but antipruritic and antiseptic, therefore invaluable in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed, raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should obtain from any good pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the abrasion like an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome.

TORRANCE OFFICER OF ASSOCIATION

Named Vice President for Wisconsin of Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association

Alderman William Torrance, La Crosse, was elected vice president for Wisconsin of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association, at the annual meeting in Stillwater, Minn., yesterday.

Mr. Torrance, with Alderman Roellig and Houska, represented La Crosse.

The convention endorsed the lake-to-the-river canal and pledged its support to the project to connect Lake Superior with the Mississippi via the St. Croix and Blue rivers.

The question of terminals for river freighters was taken up, citizens of Davenport showing views of the new $700,000 terminal which has been constructed there.

The city already, according to Davenport people, has leased space at the terminals at rates which will defray, in fifteen years, the initial cost of the project.

SIX DIE IN WRECK

PASSENGER TRAIN AT LIVINGSTON, ALA., GOES INTO DITCH BY STRIKING BROKEN RAIL

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 18.—Six persons were killed and twenty injured in a wreck at 3 o'clock this morning on the Alabama Great Southern railroad near Livingston, Ala., when passenger train No. 2 was derailed by running into a broken rail. Those killed were in the first-class coach. Many had miraculous escapes. Early reports reaching here had placed the death toll much higher.

POSTPONE VICE QUIZ

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—Owing to the illness of Senator R. W. Monk of Neillsville, the meeting of the vice investigating committee was not held this week. Another reason was the absence of Assemblyman George W. Bingham from the state. The calling of the postponed meeting will await the return to health of Senator Monk. The preparation of the committee's report is the chief object of the evening.

MUST BUY OWN PAPER

For the first time in the history of the schools of La Crosse the pupils of the high school are required to buy their own pencils, paper, pens and other supplies. In the past the school board has supplied all these necessities to the students free of charge. A number of pupils in the past have wasted supplies. The present idea of the board is that if the students must buy their own paper they will be more careful.

Altogether Out of Place.

James Payn once told the story of a visiting parson who was starting the prayer for rain when the clerk pulled his coat tails. "You mustn't read that, sir," he said. "But it's a prayer for a good harvest, my man," expostulated the preacher. "That's just it, sir," explained the clerk; "the visitors are our harvest, and we want none of your rain."

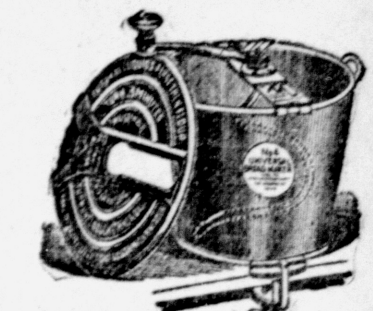

OPEN BUREAU TO AID FAIR VISITORS

The information bureau which was used during the Home-Coming is open for the accommodation of Interstate fair visitors. During the past it has sometimes been very difficult for out-of-town people to obtain rooms, but with the proper co-operation on the part of those who have rooms to rent, it is expected that this difficulty will be overcome. The information bureau is located on North Fourth street, and all those who have rooms to rent are requested to telephone to Mr. Oscar Lundgren, who is in charge.

If not convenient to telephone, notify him personally or by mail. Those who have barns that they can rent for the accommodation of farmers who will drive to La Crosse, are urgently requested to list their names and addresses with the bureau.

END PARLIAMENT DURING THE WAR

House of Commons Sings National Anthem and Cheers King at Adjournment

LONDON, Sept. 18.—In the house of lords today the decree proroguing parliament was read. The royal commissioners notified the membership that the king had signed the home rule and the Welsh disestablishment act and at the same time the accompanying act which suspends their operation during the progress of the war.

Immediate adjournment followed. There was an unprecedented scene in the house of commons, the members gathering and singing "God Save the King." The labor leader, Will Crooks, led the singing, and when it was concluded he called for three cheers for the king, which were given with a will.
